LONGHAIRS VERSUS LEARNING

Vocational Studies 'De-Emphasis' Hit In Marin Survey

High Schools Urged To Offer More 'Practical' Education

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

High schools in Marin are selling some students short because of a heavy emphasis on academic subjects and de-emphasis of such "practical" courses as shop and home economics, William R. Odell told the Marin County Board of Education last night.

In presenting a 144-page report from his firm, Odell MacConnell Associates of Palo Alto, the school planner said every high school student should take a shop or fine arts course every semester.

He said he felt College of Marin was doing a good job in providing vocational education courses (renamed "occupational education" in the report).

The report called for hiring a vocational education coordinator for the county schools office, and designating one person in each school district to be in charge of vocational education within the district. These specialists would form a committee, to be called the County Occupational Education Coordinating Committee, to plan programs and organize on a county-wide basis.

Such organization, Odell explained, would allow one high school to present a particular expensive program, and students from other areas to transfer there, rather than duplicating programs in several schools.

A 'STIGMA'

The report recommended strongly against building a school specifically for vocational education. Such a school carries a "stigma" which keeps students out although they might be benefited, Odell held.

The word "stigma" came up again when Tamalpais High School Principal Robert H. Prather asked if the consultants recommended any programs "to help minority group students."

Odell told Prather to forget about programs for any particular group of students. He said students should be treated individually, rather than as members of a group.

BOUNDARIES OUT

He predicted that specific attendance boundaries for schools would be wiped out in the next few years, allowing high schools to give more specialized programs. He also predicted that all programs would be available to all students, rather than "college prep" and "vocational" designations.

" 'College prep' doesn't mean anything any more," he said. "Anybody can go to college. All you have to be able to do is breathe to get into a junior college."

The job of the vocational coordinator would include keeping tabs on the job market in the country and Bay Area so that programs can be designed as new types of jobs open. He would also have to be an expert at applying for state and federal funds.

Concern of schools for the future jobs of their students should start long before high school, probably in kindergarten, the report said. Also, a system of follow-up information on students after they leave school is needed badly, it added.

Howard T. Sagehorn, one of Odell's assistants, said in some cases, few students take training where many jobs are open because the jobs have low status.

"How many of you parents won't let your children take cer-

New Canal Pact Set For Panama

Nations To Share Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today the United States and Panama have agreed to write a new treaty which will give Panama a share in "administration, management and operations" of the Panama Canal.

Johnson said that after 18 months of discussions negotiating teams for the two countries have reached areas of agreement.

He announced:

1. The 1903 treaty will be abrogated.

2. The new treaty "will effectively recognize Panama's sovereignty over the area of the present Canal Zone."

Details of the areas of agreement are the subject of current negotiations, the President said.

TO SHARE

"The purpose is to insure that Panama will share with the United States responsibility in the administration, management and operations of the canal as may be provided in the treaty," Johnson said. "Panama will also share with the United States in the direct and indirect benefits from the existence of the canal on its territory."

The President said the new treaty would "terminate after a specified number of years or on the date of the opening of the sea-level canal, whichever occurs first."

FOUR SITES

The U.S. government now is studying four possible sites for a new sea-level canal. One is the present canal in Panama, the second is another site in Panama, the third is in Nicaragua and a corner of Costa Rica, and the fourth is in Colombia.

Johnson went on radio and

ALL FOR UNRUH?

Dump-Anderson Rumor Revived

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Republican has fanned the flames under an old rumor that Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh will replace incumbent Democrat Glenn M. Anderson in next year's race for lieutenant governor.

Assemblyman George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, said last night that he was informed by "a confidential source close to the other side of the aisle" that Anderson, 52, would be persuaded not to seek re-election.

"Machinery is already in motion to dump Anderson as Democratic party leaders feel he will hurt the 1966 ticket due to his bungling of the Watts riot situation," Deukmejian said.

Anderson, when told the GOP lawmaker's comments, said, "It's so ridiculous it doesn't deserve any comment whatsoever."

Unruh, D-Inglewood, was in Chicago and unavailable for comment.

Anderson, a veteran of four terms as an assemblyman from Hawthorne and two terms as lieutenant governor, has been under fire for his handling of the Los Angeles Riots.

Anderon was acting governor at the outbreak of the Negro uprising because Gov. Edmund G. Brown was vacationing in Greece. Critics charged that Anderson waited too long before calling out the California National Guard to quell the riots. He has vigorously denied the charges.

Deukmejian said in a prepared statement: "It has long been discussed that Speaker Unruh would like to run for the state's second highest office and then step into the governor's office following acceptance of a federal appointment by Governor Brown.

"Until the Watts riots, Democratic leaders had no valid reason to ease Anderson out. Anderson got more public exposure on television during the five-day riot than he has had in his entire seven years as lieutenant governor—and the public was dismayed at what it saw."

He said Democratic leaders believed an Unruh for Anderson exchange "would rid the ticket of a liability and at the same time unite the deeply divided Brown and Unruh forces."

"Although Brown and Unruh have been at odds, they are quite capable of making a deal calling for a marriage of convenience which they believe would put Brown in a life-time federal job and Unruh in the governor's chair should the Democrats win in 1966."

Advisers Call For Computers To Run State

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown learned yesterday that a computerized state government, designed to fight the battles against paper and rising taxes, could save California as much as $400 million a year.

A study by Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. showed that nearly half of state government manpower is now devoted to filling out papers and passing them back and forth.

The report showed that by 1980 the state's work force will grow to 219,000 persons—half of them unnecessary if the study's proposed statewide automated information system were adopted.

At a news conference announcing results of the $100,000 survey, Brown called the occasion "dramatic" and compared it with the moment Christopher

Clausen Flays Federal Park Plan Secrecy

By refusing, the government is "setting the stage for civil war in the north country," the Crescent City congressman added.

Clausen said in an address before the 45th annual convention of the Redwood Empire Assn. yesterday that men in the redwood country of coastal Northern California are concerned over jobs and worry the government's park project will force lumber mills to close.

He attacked the "cloak of secrecy" that he said surrounds the government's policies on the park.

He said it has taken longer than necessary to get the report on proposed park planning that President Lyndon B. Johnson asked the federal Park Service for last January.

Clausen added that he asked Secretary of the Interior Stuart Udall for a progress report and for recommendations made to the Bureau of the Budget by the Park Service.

Also speaking before the convention was Dr. Edgar Wayburn, vice president of the Sierra Club, an organization which ad-

Third Paroled Convict Is Quizzed In San Rafael Labor Day Slaying

A third paroled convict was being quizzed at noon today in the Labor Day holdup-murder of San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari.

Harold Frank Percell, 24, of San Francisco, was arrested on suspicion of parole violation and taken to the Marin County district attorney's office at 11:30 a.m. today. There, he was being grilled by Inspector Thomas Cheetham of San Rafael police and Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales. At 12:45 p.m. he was booked in the County jail as a parole violation.

The questioning marked Bales's most public participation yet in the investigation, although he has been "calling the shots" for Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa in many respects.

Two men arrested for San Rafael police in the case Wednesday were reported by Bales today to be in San Francisco County Jail in San Bruno. Chief Chiesa, however, said they were in custody of Pat Smythe, parole officer for the California Adult Authority.

The two are Jack Gorman, 36, arrested by San Francisco police, and March Charles Osuna, 30, arrested by San Diego County sheriff's officers.

Bales said Gorman and Osuna would not be questioned farther in the San Rafael case "at this time," but said they have not been eliminated.

Purcell, he said, "is not a suspect at this time."

Bales indicated Purcell had been questioned earlier, but without being picked up.

Bales and Chiesa both insisted Gorman and Osuna were arrested merely as parole violators, although in both cases the arresting officers booked them "hold for San Rafael police." Suspicion of parole violation, however, is commonly used to hold paroled convicts since it permits holding them beyond 24 hours without a specific charge.

Purcell was paroled from the State Medical Facility at Vacaville early last month. He had been serving time for assault with a deadly weapon and for possessioon of a knife while in prison.

Gorman was paroled from San Quentin about the same

'Nazi' Demonstration Hits House Over Home Rule Idea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A neatly dressed young man shouting "sieg heil!" disrupted a session of the House today. He showered racist handbills from the gallery and hurled a Nazi flag into the chamber.

Doorkeepers and police hauled him away only after a struggle that lasted several minutes. House members watched spellbound from the floor.

The demonstrator, apparently a member of George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi Party, denounced legislation to restore self-government to the District of Columbia. He charged it was "no good" for white people.

During his tirade from the gallery, he loosed onto the House floor a barrage of printed leaflets purporting to be one-way boat tickets to Africa, each entitling "one nigger" to a free trip with "plenty of wine, marijuana, heroin and other refreshments."

The handbills carried a notation that they were "Copyrighted, 1965, by Lincoln Rockwell."

Police said the intruder had prepared for his display by handcuffing his wrist to a metal handrail. When guards grabbed him, they could not immediately pull him loose. Finally, a half dozen attendants were engaged in the struggle.

While the demonstrator struggled, he continued to shout, crying among other things "long live Rockwell!" and "down with home rule!"

The House always has been vulnerable to interference and even violence from the galleries. In 1954, fanatical Puerto Rican nationalists fired a barrage of bullets in the chamber, wounding five congressmen.

Senate Votes Poverty Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today sent to President Johnson the bill making available $1,785,000,000 for the second year of his "war on poverty."

The roll-call vote on passage was 46-22.

The authorization measure contains more than double the $793 million voted by Congress last year for the first year of the program and $285 million more than Johnson asked for the second year.

Kettenhofen Favors Lease Instead Of Courthouse Sale

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has proposed that a 100-year lease rather than outright sale of the courthouse square in San Rafael be studied.

In a letter to fellow supervisors yesterday, Kettenhofen cited sales of lands by public agencies in Marin which have not benefited the taxpayer.

He noted the county failed to acquire railroad rights of way after World War II, turned down of a low-priced offer of land in Fairhills in San Rafael and disposal of lands in downtown San Rafael to the Albert estates. He also pointed to sale by the City of San Rafael of yacht harbor property. (now the Montacito Shopping Center)

Kettenhofen said the underlying question is whether the county should be in the real estate business.

"I say frankly and unequivocally that I feel that they should if it has a substantial beneficial impact on the taxpayer," he wrote.

The county, in its Hall of Justice financing program, hopes to sell the courthouse for about $1.4 million.

The pending sale has prompted much concern among Marin citizens. The Marin County Historical Society has launched a drive to preserve the property for public use, and the San Rafael City Council has financed a planning study with the hope that private development will assure improvement of the business district.

Span Board Sets Two-Deck Debate

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today set a special meeting for 10 a.m. Oct. 5 to decide whether to build a second deck on the bridge.

Acting on a motion by San Francisco director Stephan C. Leonoudakis, directors voted to meet as a committee of the whole on a date when the district's building and operations committee usually would meet.

Before deciding whether they want the deck, directors will hear a presentation by Tudor Engineering Co. on its proposal for a deck of five lanes, to carry all types of traffic in one direction. They already have heard a plan for a four-lane reversible deck, to carry light traffic only.

Foreign Aid Speedily Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A virtually intact $3,143,000,000 foreign aid appropriation, last of the year's money measures, has cleared the Senate after just one day of debate.

A bipartisan 59-21 vote last night approved the bill after administration forces beat back a barrage of amendments that sought to trim it. Only one reduction was made, and that amounted to only $50 million.

The bill now goes to a conference committee to compromise the few differences between the versions passed by the House and Senate for the 1966 fiscal year, which started July 1.

The Senate bill is just $142 million less than the amount voted by the House two weeks ago and is $217 million beneath the aid ceiling imposed earlier when Congress passed the foreign aid authorization bill.

Miss Malone, 38, suffered severe back pains and fainting spells Wednesday morning.

Officer Remembered Chessman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A psychiatrist says Police Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal was reminded of the Caryl Chessman case when he saw his daughter shortly after she reported being raped by a gang of men.

Dr. Alvin Davis, the psychiatrist, testified yesterday at the Superior Court trial of the suspended officer, who is charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

"He remembered that one of the girl victims of Chessman was still in a mental institution," Dr. Davis told the jury. The doctor said the police lieutenant's daughter, Shirley O'Neal, 19, reverted to childish behavior after the ordeal June 29 and O'Neal feared she had lost her mind.

Viet Soldiers Rebuff Attack By Guerrillas

Regimental-Size Surprise Action; Heavy Red Losses

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong forces, attacking in regimental strength, hit government positions 300 miles northeast of Saigon today. A U. S. spokesman said planes and artillery drove back the Reds with heavy losses.

Vietnamese army sources said 600 guerrillas were killed but government losses were "moderate." The action began yesterday in the jungle hills north of Qui Nhon.

NO U. S. TROOPS

Only Vietnamese forces were engaged in the fighting which raged around the district town of Bong Son 300 miles northeast of Saigon and about 35 miles northeast of the U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry positions at the An Khe Valley.

In recent months Binh Dinh Province has been quiet. The regimental-size action that raged along a 20-mile-front came as a surprise to U.S. advisers in Qui Nhon. A Viet Cong regiment numbers roughly 1,000 to 1,500 men.

Combined U.S. and Vietnamese air sorties during the action numbered 58, a U.S. spokesman said. A U.S. Air Force F100 was shot down north of Bong Son but the pilot ejected and was picked up by helicopter.

OTHER ACTION

Vietnamese troops reportedly killed 34 Viet Cong in sharp fighting near Hue, about 60 miles north of Da Nang, the big U.S. air base 380 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. B52 jet bombers blasted the "iron triangle" area 20 miles north of Saigon for the second time this week, a U.S. spokesman said. It was their 31st announced raid of the war.

A company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division backed by cannon, flame throwers and air attacks, launched a wave of assaults on heavily fortified Viet Cong bunkers 40 miles northwest of Saigon near Bien Hoa.

Weight Plummets Through House

SAN LEANDRO (AP) — A small lead weight, trailing a 14 inch coil, plunged through the roof and two floors into the basement of Dr. Donald Field's home yesterday.

The family told San Leandro police the object ripped through the house as they watched television. It caused no injuries.

Police said the object is pear-shaped and weighs five pounds. They said it probably fell from an airplane. The Federal Aviation Agency was checking 10 known aircraft in the area at the time.

MIAMI MYSTERY

Teener Abandoned, Unable To Speak

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Apparently hounded by demons he alone can see, a young teenager is locked in a troubled mental state as authorities seek clues to his mysterious past.

Uppermost on their list was the person who abandoned the disturbed youth in a crowded waiting room at Miami International Airport and vanished.

The boy, his eyes glazed, will not speak although physicians say he is not mute, nor retarded.

No one knows his name or where he lives. There is no hint to his background.

Dade County authorities can only guess that recently — perhaps this week — something so terrible happened that the boy drew a curtain across his mind and shut out the world.

"He apparently is not retarded, nor is he a deaf mute," said an examining psychiatrist.

"The only speculation that might be made at this stage of our examination is that he is suffering gross psychiatric disturbances."

He is under examination at a facility for exceptional children.

WHAT HAPPENED? Curtain across mind

The shirt and slacks were expensive. The labels had been carefully snipped out.

When he failed to talk, police searched his pockets. They found three pennies and a package of tissues. Nothing else.

"It's beginning to look more and more like someone left him at the airport and made sure there would be nothing to trace," said an investigating officer.

Rains Ease Off; Midwest Floods Threaten Harvests

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains which have pounded the midcontinent for a week subsided today, but flood waters continued to roll over rich farmland, ruining fall crops in some areas.

Rivers in northern Arkansas spilled over their banks and flowed into low-lying croplands, adding to the crop damage already caused by wind and rain.

The towns along the river are built on hills and are not endangered by the flood.

Heavy rains and high humidity have turned what had appeared to be one of southern Ohio's best tobacco crops into what may be one of the worst.

In Texas, the rains which soaked the state have subsided.

Hole Caves In, Worker Saved

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A construction worker was buried neck - deep in treacherous, powder-like sand for more than two hours before rescuers pulled him from a 23-foot deep excavation, police said.

Augustine Yanaz, 38, was taken to UCLA Medical Center after the accident yesterday, but the hospital said he appeared unharmed.

Fire Capt. John Byrne said rescuers had to painstakingly remove the sand from Yanaz before pulling him out.

"His right leg was twisted behind his body and we were afraid we might break it if we attempted to pull him out while he was still covered with sand," said Byrne.

Charles Boyer Flies Home To Bury His Only Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Charles Boyer sadly returned from Paris last night — eluding newsmen as he sped away from Los Angeles International Airport — to arrange funeral services for his only son.

Michael Charles Boyer, 21, fired a pistol bullet into his temple, police said. They say it could have been a prank, or perhaps suicide inspired by what young Boyer believed an unrequited love.

Boyer, 66, was making a movie in Paris when his wife telephoned yesterday morning to say their only child was dead.

Jailbird Simply Borrows A Name

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The prisoner sang out, "Here sir," when jailer Ronald Haight stepped up to the cell bars in the San Francisco City Jail and called for Michael V. Nelson.

The prisoner, escorted to the booking desk before his release, answered all the personal questions about Nelson's date and place of birth.

He was released to freedom.

Half an hour later last night another prisoner pounded on the cell bars, asking "When do I get out?" He identified himself as Michael V. Nelson.

Jailers said the second man was the real Nelson, an 18-year-old San Francisco City College student who had been arrested on a charge of receiving stolen property.

The jailers said the first man was George Brewster, 30, a transient charged with illegally using a credit card.

But authorities said they took a dim view of Nelson's explanation that he'd been asleep when his name was called. They also noted the two had exchanged bunks.

Police decided to keep Nelson on charges of suspicion of aiding an escape and suspicion of conspiracy to escape.

Peninsula Police Hold Check Spree Suspect

MILLBRAE (AP) — Howard York Knox tells police he made five trips to Hawaii in the past two months.

And police say he has given away a lot of free groceries, always placing them in the oldest car he could find.

But they arrested him yesterday, anyway, for investigation on whether it all resulted from worthless checks and credit cards.

Police Sgt. Charles Loustalot said Knox financed his fling by buying $10 worth of groceries in supermarkets and paying with $35 worthless checks.

Knox would leave the groceries in the oldest car he saw in the parking lot and depart with the remaining $25, Loustalot added. The groceries always included a ham and some cakes.

Loustalot quoted Knox, 35, of nearby Burlingame as saying he made five trips to Hawaii in the last two months with various girls, paying for it all with checks and credit cards.

Knox was arrested at a motel after motel officials called police and reported trouble in collecting a bill.

Agents of a car rental firm showed up demanding payment of automobile charges 10 days overdue.

Knox then walked out of the room and said he didn't have the money to pay up.

He was booked at the San Mateo County Jail in Redwood City.

Johnson Names Top Health Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today his selection of Dr. William H. Stewart, 44, who has been with the Public Health Service since 1951, to be U.S. Surgeon-General.

Johnson, described Stewart as young, imaginative and energetic, and said he has demonstrated capacity for leadership.

Stewart will succeed Dr. Luther L. Terry, who resigned to accept an appointment as vice president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ross Resident Gets Grand Jury Summons

Ross resident Jules Becker of the San Francisco public relations firm of Becker and Mueller has been subpoenaed to testify Monday before the San Francisco Grand Jury, now investigating charges that San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden reduced assessments on property of campaign contributors.

Becker, who insisted his firm has "nothing to hide," said it worked for Wolden twice: in 1959, when he sought unsuccessfully to oust George Christopher as mayor, and in 1962, when he was re-elected as assessor.

Football Star Fatally Stabbed

Ralph Stinnett, 18, of South High School who last year was named to Springfield's All-City team, was dead on arrival at a hospital yesterday with a knife wound in the heart.

Police arrested a 17-year-old youth at the scene and jailed him.

The knifing had no apparent racial overtones. It occurred on a street adjacent to the school, reportedly when Stinnett attempted to break up a fight between the brother of the suspect and another boy.

Kashmir Truce Shaky; India Angry At Britain

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India accused Pakistan today of violating the United Nations cease-fire at several frontier points while pro-Pakistan guerrillas reported killing 83 Indian soldiers in a flareup of fighting in Kashmir.

The Indian accusation was the first report of violations since the cease-fire went into effect at 3:30 a.m. Indian time yesterday (6 p.m. EDT Wednesday). An official government statement said the Pakistans had entered India and dug trenches at a number of points.

Indian anger turned to Britain meanwhile for halting military shipments during the war with Pakistan. Deputy Bhavat Jha Azad of the ruling Congress party asked India to withdraw from the British Commonwealth. In the heated debate some members suggested Britain beexpel led from the Commonwealth.

Both Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammad Ayub Khan received congratulations from President Johnson and from Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin on ending their three-week old war.

Federal Cash For Airport Turned Down

The Federal Aviation Administration has turned down Marin County's application for $190,000 to finance improvements and expansion of the Marin County Airport at Novato because of a lease that runs until 1972.

Cole Morrow, director of airport services of the FAA, wrote the board of supervisors that the government could not participate, because a lease executed in 1959 gives Harry O. Tollefson exclusive right to operate facilities.

The county's first attempt to get federal funds in 1964 was turned down because the county planned to budget its share of the cost over a two-year period.

This year, with all the county's share accumulated for the job, it was hoped the application would have clear sailing.

Asst. County Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson said today it is hoped the lease may be terminated by agreement with Tollefson. He will ask the board of supervisors Tuesday for some direction on the problem.

The FAA puts up 54 per cent of cost of developing and improving airports. The county planned to change the direction of the landing strip from east-west to north-south and purchase additional land.

Marinwood Man Held On Perjury

Michael West, 18-year-old Marinwood youth charged with perjury in two preliminary hearings in Marin Municipal Court, was arrested late yesterday by sheriff's officers.

West, 254 Adobestone Court, allegedly falsely testified as a witness in examinations of Thomas Dean Scahill, 21, 131 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, charged with disposing of a stolen auto transmission with intent to defraud an insurance company.

West was released on $550 bail pending arraignment this afternoon.

Ivan Gets Word To Stay Sober

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top soldier warned today that drink is the curse of the officer class and the habit must be uprooted.

Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky wrote in the military paper Red Star:

"It is high time to understand that hard drinking is a sign of a lack of discipline and a man who has a weakness to 'the snake' (drinking) cannot be a reliable officer."

Viet Reds Believed Holding French Aide

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese police said today the French vice consul in Saigon has been missing for four days and is believed to have been kidnaped by the Viet Cong.

The diplomat, Bean Bion, 41, the consulate's No. 2 man, was abducted from a bus while traveling in the central highlands Tuesday night, informants said.

Nixon Asks Republicans To Unite

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon set out guidelines today to unite Republicans for a major 1966 campaign effort, describing the state of the GOP now as "the lowest it has been in 20 years."

"When you have a one-party system as you have in Washington today," Nixon told an audience of 1,000 last night, "It tends to corrupt government because the party in power has no effective opposition. It leads to a potentially tyrannical government and to second rate government."

The Republicans must support candidates with a chance to win, whether they are conservative or liberal. "I don't believe 1966 is the year for an ideological fight," Nixon said. "1966 is the year in which the party will be waging a battle in 100 close congressional disricts.

"Some will be liberal and some conservatives."

Wayburn said that a 90,000-acre national redwood park would boost the "dangerously sagging economy" of Del Norte, Humboldt, and Mendocino counties by creating new jobs in travel and recreation fields.

He suggested that Northern California would profit more by keeping its trees as scenery, rather than using them for lumber.

Darrell Schroeder of Miller Redwood Co., Crescent City, said creating a park would mean "wholesale bankruptcy" for the lumber industry. He added that it would force major mills to shut down.

However the chief of the Regional National Park Service, Robert Luntey, said that two million tourists might visit such a redwood national park each year by 1980.

Gov. Brown was to speak today at the association's convention, to report on the park situation.

Use Permit Question Delays Pier Approval

Fred M. M. Jukich's proposal to build a dock, finger pier and two mooring piles in Racoon Strait off Paradise Drive in Tiburon is being held up until Jukich presents a use permit from the city of Tiburon.

The city filed the only objection to the proposal with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, but then gave Jukich, who lives in Sausalito, a use permit last month. Alf Ekeland, in charge of permits for the Army Engineers, said Jukich has yet to present the use permit to them, and so the application is being held up.

Motor Vehicle Office Set For Corte Madera Move

Drivers' licenses and auto registrations will be issued from a new $220,000 building in Corte Madera starting Monday, as the State Department of Motor Vehicles moves from its rented space in San Rafael.

The move will be made tomorrow from 1926 Fourth Street, San Rafael, to 75 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera. The new office, built by Olsen Construction So., Santa Rosa, has 7,100 square feet of floor space, compared to 1,900 in the present quarters, and there will be 100 parking spaces, compared to the present 15.

The Corte Madera office can be reached from Highway 101 via the Lucky Drive turnoff.

There will be no increase in staff immediately as the move is made into expanded quarters. There has been an increase of about six per cent in the past year in the number of drivers' licenses issued, however.

Chiesa denied a rumor that information in the case had come from two patrons in the bar who knew about the holdup in advance.

Meanwhile, reliable sources reported that a team of five skindivers who dived into Stow Lake in Golden Gate Park Wednesday for San Rafael police were looking for a gun believed to have been used in the holdup-killing. Chiesa yesterday said the divers did not find what they were seeking. He would not say what it was.

The robbers hid in the apartment of Mission Inn owner Leo Albertoni and held him captive for more than two hours, then told him to call in bartenders Ferrari and Alfred Casey.

Ferrari was shot to death when he yelled "to hell with you punks!" and started to run from the dining room.

Vandals May Cost City Its Landmark

Vandalism by youngsters of the Mount Tamalpais and Muir Woods Gravity Car 15 in Mill Valley's Lytton Square may cause removal of the vehicle to Old Mill Park..

Junior Chamber of Commerce directors agreed lasts night to offer to assist the city in moving and repairing the replica. "Due to the determination of a small select group of school boys to wreck this thing," said External Vice President Jerome C. Hauke, "we would like to see the car either moved or protected."

Robbed Woman's Body Identified

BANNING (AP)—Human remains found in a desert grave and a robbed safety deposit box point to the possibility of foul play in the death of an 82-year-old widow, police say.

Mrs. Elizabeth Simmons, who lived alone in Los Angeles, vanished mysteriously on July 23, 1963. A state highway maintenance crew found her remains in a shallow grave Aug. 30, but identification wasn't made until yesterday.

tain types of courses because it might hurt their status, or your status as a parent?" he asked the audience of about 75.

He said the solution is to dress up these courses with the "symbols" of status, including new and high quality facilities. The fact that many vocational courses are now taught at college level is a move in that direction, he said.

Marin is an unusual county, commented Robert N. Ingraham, another assistant, in that only about five per cent of the high school students drop out.

He said there are practically no jobs for persons under 18 who drop out of school in the county, but of the 14 per cent of Marin high school seniors who said they would go to work right after high school, over half already had found jobs this spring.

Sagehorn said the best vocational programs now offered are in business courses, mainly for girls. He said high schools have facilities for a much greater variety of vocational courses, if only they were used more efficiently.

"This has to be done," the governor said, thumping his desk for emphasis. "But whether or not I'll be able to sell it to the legislature and the people remains to be seen."

The system would link existing and future computers of state and local agencies so that information could be speedily exchanged between them. That would largely do away with the need for the 598 different kinds of reports the state requires from each of its counties.

The study warned that if some sort of automation is not adopted, the state by 1974 will have enough paper in its active files to form a trail to the moon and back and by 1990 would have enough filing cabinets to stretch 354 miles from Sacramento to Los Angeles.

The new system would cost about $100 million and would take a decade to develop. Brown said the plan probably would be presented to the 1967 legislature.

Already, he said, discussions are getting under way aimed at obtaining federal money to help foot the bill. He pointed out that lessons of California's automated government could be applied to other states and to the federal government.

In practice, various government agencies would have almost instant access to information stored in computer memory banks throughout the state.

The Department of Mental Hygiene, for example, could follow progress of its discharged patients by drawing data from police, tax, employment, motor vehicle and other agencies automatically.

The President did not go into detail on the question of Panama's sharing in the administration, management, operations and direct and indirect benefits of the canal. Presumably this is one of the topics to be worked out in negotiations still under way.

Johnson said a similar declaration to the people of Panama was being made by President Marco Robles of that country.

Liquor Flow Stops At Hotel

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The liquor license of the El Mirador Hotel, a favorite of legislators, has been ordered suspended for 10 days because an entertainer was arrested on a vice charge there.

The Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control said yesterday however, that the suspension was expected to be waived through the payment of a fine.

The department explained that the suspension order was a result of the arrest of entertainer Bigge A. Kanae on a charge of soliciting for prostitution in the hotel bar.

Court Suspends Oakland Lawyer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Benjamin F. Marlowe, an Oakland attorney and one-time candidate for mayor, has been suspended from practice for three months.

The suspension was ordered Thursday by the California Supreme Court and followed a state Bar recommendation that Marlowe be suspended for six months.

Marlowe said he had not been given a chance to defend himself against the charges that his conduct did not meet "the high standards imposed on a member of the bar."

Anti-Disease Bill Approved By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House approved today a three-year, $340-million program to link medical schools, research institutions and hospitals in a cooperative effort to combat heart disease, cancer and stroke.

The House then sent the measure — a rewrite of one of President Johnson's high-priority health bills—to the Senate which has already passed a somewhat broader version with a $650-million price tag.

Mrs. Agnes Nordy Vincilione, of Barranca Road, told deputies her husband had just returned from three months cruise in Viet Nam, and last telephoned her from San Francisco about 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Land Deal For Nursery School

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The nursery school on the San Rafael High School campus will be assured a half century more of life under a plan to be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night.

The plan, which has already been discussed among board members and appears assured of approval, calls for the San Rafael High School District to lease a triangular piece of the high school campus—approximately a city lot—to San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., for 50 years at $1 a year, and to give San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., $5,000 toward construction of a building on the property.

This will save the nursery school from having to close with removal of the temporary building in which it has operated for some years—and which must be removed to make way for the high school's building program. It will also go much farther by giving the nursery school a permanent home on high school property, in a building constructed partly with high school tax funds.

Further, the deal will in effect commit San Rafael High School District to continue its adult education program for another half century; for the nursery school has its being as an adjunct to the adult school.

The resolution of intention to lease a triangular piece of the high school property at Mission Avenue and Embarcadero Way, which is to be presented at Tuesday'sboard meeting, makes no mention of San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc.

The resolution, prepared by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney at request of the school administration, recites that "certain hereinafter described real property . . . is not presently needed for school purposes." It says "the best interests of said property to the highest bidder . . . for the sole purpose of conducting a cooperative nursery thereon."

It then proceeds to call for bids on lease of the triangular piece of high school property for a term of 50 years, and provides: "Bids will be considered only from non-profit corporations established for the purpose of conducting a cooperative nursery school."

There are two such corporations in San Rafael: San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., which operates the nursery school at San Rafael High, and Terra Linda Nursery School, which operates a similar setup in privately rented quarters in Terra Linda, also as an adjunct of the high school district's adult education program.

So sure are school administrators and the county counsel that San Rafael Community Nursery School Inc., will be the only bidder for lease of the high school property that a resolution accepting its bid, a lease, and an agreement for the school district to give it $5,000 twoard a building have been prepared already.

The second resolution, recites:

"Whereas, the San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., has submitted a sealed proposal for the lease of said property for a rental of one dollar ($1.00) per year.

"Now, therefore, be is resolved as follows:

"1. That the said bid of San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., is the highest and best bid for the lease of said property and is hereby accepted."

It then empowers the president of the board (Walter J. Doll) to enter into the lease at $1 a year.

The lease itself, naming San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., is also ready, with blanks left only for the beginning date in 1965 and the ending date in the year 2015 and for insertion of the amount of liability insurance the nursery school must carry.

The agreement for the high school district to give the nursery school $5,000 toward a building is also ready for signature, including among its "whereases" this:

"Whereas, district has heretofore leased certain real property to corporation for the purpose of constructing thereon a building . . . now therefore, district agrees to pay the sum of $5,000 to corporation . . . to compensate corporation for its assistance in the operation of the district's adult education program . . . Corporation specifically agrees that said $5,000 will not be used for any purpose other than construction of a facility upon the land leased to corporation by district."

Supt. Bert C. Corona said he has been assured by County Counsel Maloney that this contribution of $5,000 by the school district to the privately operated non-profit corporation will not constitute an illegal gift of public funds.

The relationship of San Rafael Community Nursery School, Inc., to the San Rafael High School is interesting.

The cooperative nursery school was formed by an association of parents and is continued by such association, although the membership changes largely from year to year. It is incorporated as a non-profit corporation.

Its purpose is to operate a daytime nursery school for preschool children of its members.

Each member, besides paying dues and fees to the association, must enroll in a San Rafael High School District adult class in child care. The nursery school becomes "demonstration school" for this class. A teacher, hired by the school district but paid in part by the parents, gives lectures to the parents and demonstrates proper child care with the children. The parents must attend some daytime sessions at the school itself as well as the evening lectures.

It differs from adult classes, not only in its double-feature arrangement but also in its cost.

The State of California, which underwrites adult education, contributes much of the school district's cost for this course in child care. However, according to figures prepared by Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat for the board of education, the cost to taxpayers of the high school district is about $27 per year for each child enrolled.

Parents who sign up for the class must also join the cooperative. To the school district, the parent pays $13 per month for each child ($117 for the school year) and a $12 registration in the adult class, or a total payment to the public school district of $129.

In addition, the parent must pay dues, etc., to the association. Figures on association cost vary widely, board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. having complained at the Sept. 14 board of education meeting that no two sets of figures agreed.

An estimated budget just submitted by the Terra Linda Nursery School, however, shows cost apart from that paid the school district amounting to $3,550 per year for enrollment of 50 children—or $67 for each child.

The school district's figures show that Terra Linda parents pay the school district $141 for each child—$12 more than those in the San Rafael High class. There is a $12 per child nursery school registration which is charged by the school district in Terra Linda but not in San Rafael. The reason for this was not explained.

The total cost to the parent for each child enrolled at Terra Linda would therefore be $208 for the school year.

Despite the high cost, however, parents are eager to keep the adult school-nursery school setup in operation, the costs being well below those charged by private nursery schools operated for a profit.

The deal to be started on its way at Tuseday's board meeting will assure operation for 50 years of the nursery school at San Rafael High. A similar arrangement for Terra Linda doubtless can be worked out later to assure continuance of the operation there.

Escaper Cuts Wrist, Arm

Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, who on Sept. 10 unsuccessfully attempted to escape a sheriff's bailiff, yesterday was taken to Napa State Hospital after cutting his left wrist and arm in three places.

Sheriff's officers said the injuries, not serious, were apparently inflicted about 12:35 p.m. with a razor. No instrument was found in the cell, however, shared with several other inmates.

Fitch, of 116 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, made his earlier escape try after being bound over to Marin Superior Court for burglary following a preliminary hearing. He was caught a few blocks from the courthouse.

Japanese Fire Kills 12 Navy Radio Men

TOKYO (AP) — Twelve U.S. Navy personnel were killed today in a fire which destroyed a naval communications building at Kamiseya, about 20 miles southwest of Tokyo.

The U.S. Navy said about 110 Navy and Marine communications technicians were on duty in the two-story frame building when the fire broke out.

Bomber's Leaky Fuel Tank Fixed, Air Force Says

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The first-built XB70A super bomber has been pronounced airworthy again, following a fuel tank leak that grounded it for two months.

The Air Force said the huge jet soared to 66,400 feet at a speed of 1,900 miles an hour Wednesday, in the first flight after repairs were made.

Fuel tank leakage is an old problem with the No. 1 XB70A. It first occurred during construction and delayed the bomber's maiden flight from December 1962, to September 1964.

The 185-foot-long plane's sister ship, XB70A No. 2, has fuel tanks that were sealed by welding and has never had a leakage problem.

Mexican Soldiers Hunt Rebel Band

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government soldiers today hunted the remnants of an armed band of 15 to 18 men who attacked an army post in northern Chihuahua State, killing five soldiers and leaving eight of their own dead behind.

The defense ministry described the band as "a group of agitators" and listed two known pro-Communists among the dead in the 1½-hour battle yesterday.

Savings Bond Sales

Savings bond sales in Marin County in August amounted to $125,519, according to volunteer Marin chairman D. C. Davis. Sales in Northern California were $11,130,019, up $557,423 over August, 1964.

Florida Dragnet Out For Escapee

MIAMI (UPI) — Authorities today continued to follow up a series of widely scattered leads in the search for jailbreaker Georges Lemay but none appeared particularly promising. They admitted he could be anywhere.

Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of reports, most of them from people who said they saw the Canadian fugitive or his dark-haired wife, Lise, in motels, bars or at the airport. None proved productive.

A sheriff's department spokesman said airports, train and bus depots, marinas and waters still were being closely watched, and that federal authorities were checking reports Lemay had reached some foreign country.

SHOVELING 'INDIAN' SAND — Sand from an Indian mound at Limantour spit is being tossed into a screen by Phil Hicks of Orinda in a search for Indian artifacts. Hicks is an anthropology student at San Francisco State College. In back, anthropologist Tony Barnett takes augur borings to determine depth of deposit.

DOWN IN THE MOUND — Bill Montgomery of Santa Rosa Junior College (foreground) and Tom King, San Francisco State College student are at work in an Indian mound in the back yard of a Bolinas resident. Depth is four to five feet and the mound is 150 by 250 feet in size. Students search for evidence of Sir Francis Drake landing before land can be built up with houses.

Did Explorer Drake Anchor Near Bolinas?

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Did Sir Francis Drake make port in the once-navigable Bolinas Lagoon?

It's altogether possible, say anthropologists of San Francisco State College, who are believed to be the first scientists to look for evidence of Drake in the Bolinas area.

Digging in indian mounds this summer they turned up some interesting Indian artifacts—but no evidence that Drake called there. Findings include abalone pendents, obsidian projectile points (shinny as if just polished), whale bone wedges, a stone phallic symbol, fish net sinker stones, pestles, crude choppers and bone awls.

More significant than Bolinas findings, said Dr. Adan Treganza, projects chairman and chairman of the college's department of anthropology, were those made in the Point Reyes area.

These include relics of 16th century Europe: ship spikes, pottery and porcelain fragments and, perhaps the most interesting, a brass button about the size of a quarter with a design on it.

"We are sending this to the Smithsonian Institution for identification," said Tony Barnett, summer crew chief.

Barnett said that, though people have claimed Drake landed at both Drake's Bay and in San Francisco Bay, it is conceivable he could have landed at Bolinas Bay. "It's just like a chemistry experiment," he said. "You eliminate you variables."

Financed by the National Park Service, the professors and students dug solely in Indian mounds. They used augurs, shovels and large-toothed rakes and screened sand through large stand-up screens. "We carried bags full of things back", said Barnett.

Making maps of sites, the anthropologists labeled and catalogued their finds, making sure to note depths and in what position the object was found.

"The ultimate aim in all of this is to try to reconstruct the history of a culture for which you have no written record," Barnett advised. "The only information you have is contained in the ground.

"For example, we have no idea what their music was like. we have found instruments such as bird bone whistles."

Barnett said that dating was done at Point Reyes as to artifact types. "you can date the whole sandspit geologically as being pleistocine," he said.

Excavation work is continuing this semester on a volunteer basis, the anthropologist said.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Loot valued at $50,000 and estimated to weigh more than a ton was recovered with the arrest of seven persons, police said.

Booked on suspicion of burglary were James DeSwan, 30; Robert John Anderson, 25; Joseph Louis Troiano, 24; Anthony J. Palermo, 46; Joseph M. Palermo, 58; Sue Sheila Rosen, 22, and Patricia Neville, 21.

Nursery Owner Gets Sales Office Permit

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today granted a permit for owen Potter to operate a nursery sales office on his property on Sir Francis Drake Boluevard just east of Shoreline Highway near Point Reyes Station.

Cordill denied Potter's request for a variance to permit sale of wood on the property.

Phone Campaign Fails To Halt Folk Concert

Malvina Reynolds, Berkeley folk singer best known as the writer of "Little Boxes," will appear Oct. 9 at Novato High School despite a telephone campaign seeking to cancel her concert, sponsors said today.

Mrs. Reynolds is to appear under sponsorship of Novato Community Ambassadors, to benefit the American Field Service student exchange program for Novato High School students. Her concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 9 at the school.

Announcement of Mrs. Reynolds' scheduled appearance brought a campaign of telephone calls urging its cancellation and citing her alleged identification with left-wing groups, said Asst. Supt. Eugene De Brecht of Novato Unified School District. The school district office received several such calls, DeBrecht said.

Mrs. James L. Appleton, program chairman of the Community Ambassadors, said there is no intention of cancelling the concert, despite the ampaign. "We have a signed contract with her," said Mrs. Appleton.

De Brecht said the question of legality of Mrs. Reynolds' appearance at the school had been checked with County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who replied, "It is not to whom you rent a facility, but why and what is the purpose of it."

The cornerstone of the Marin County Courthouse was laid Aug. 3, 1872, with Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons, officiating.

Family Held, Masked Man Robs Store

The robber, with a .22-pistol, waylaid Emmett Beauregard, 48, co-owner of Shoppers Corner Market in a dark parking lot when Beauregard closed the store at 9:30 p.m.

"Stop the car or I'll kill you," the robber, masked and wearing black gloves, told Beauregard. He fired one shot which Beauregard said whizzed by his head.

Then the man dumped a sack of groceries Beauregard was taking home, thinking the store receipts were in it. The bag contained no money so the robber ordered Beauregard to drive home, threatening to kill him.

At home were Beauregard's wife, Patricia; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Oakes of San Francisco; and two Beauregard children, Michael, 16, and Joanne, 14.

The gunman took $180 from Mrs. Beauregard's purse, then herded the family into their car and returned with them to the store.

The family was forced to stay in the car while Beauregard at gunpoint opened the safe containing about $500.

Then the robber made them drive back to the Beauregard home where he forced them to tie each other up with telephone wire, rope and belts.

All were gagged.

Another daughter, Cheryl Beauregard, 20, and her date, Ronald Trinchero, 21, of Santa Cruz, arrived and they too were tied and gagged.

Mrs. Oakes, 65, worked loose. She called police shortly after midnight. The Beauregard car was abandoned near the store.

Petitioners Trying Again To Form Dredging District

New petitions for formation of an assessment district to help finance dredging of Saucelito Canai are being circulated among Richardson Bay property owners.

Decision to go ahead with the petitions was reached at a meeting of owners and their representatives with county public works officials at the Civic Center Wednesday.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said there was home debate over proposed distribution of the total $400,000 in local cost among the owners. This distribution is still to be worked out, he said.

The Army Corps of Engineers will contribute $200,000 toward the job, including engineering work already done, Frost said.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Two Marin Chefs Pick Up Honors At Restaurant Exposition

Honors were brought to Marin County this week by two restaurants participating in the Chefs' Olympics at the Western National Restaurant Convention and Exposition in San Francisco.

Scheuermann topped this Wednesday when he walked off with first prize in the pastry division for a cake in the shape of a book. Turns out he's a former pastry chef—the mark of many a professional master of the kitchen.

Also on Monday, competing with 67 entrants at the cold fish and seafood table, Ted Wood, who opened the Londoner Restaurant in San Anselmo not too long ago, brought in a second prize with his "Darne de Saumow Garni al'Anglais," a salad dish done in the English style with salmon and cucumbers.

Besides knowing how to cook, he has the earmarks of a successful restaurateur. He is soon to open another place—the Londoner Fish and Chip Shop on the Miracle Mile in San Anselmo.

GOURMETS and OENOPHILISTS alike will welcome "Adventures in Wine Cookery," a new sequel to "Favorite Recipes of California Winemakers," published by the Wine Advisory Board in San Francisco. Available at retail wine shops, in wineries, in bookstores or by mail from Cook Book, Box 88, San Francisco 94101. Individual copies are $2 each.

As before, recipes were contributed by members of the California wine industry and tested by the California wine kitchen of the Wine Industry's home advisory service. They cover the field from punches, hors d'oeuvres, soups, meats, poultry, game and fish to cheese and eggs, salads and dressings, vegetables, sauces and desserts.

I understand that Wine Advisory Board manager Dan C. Turrentine, who lives in San Rafael, is responsible for pushing this work into print.

NEW PROMOTION IDEA at Yo's Den, 510 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, is a good one and original, I think. At least for this county.

Once a month Yolanda Apostoli says she will have an "amateur chef night," when she'll invite one of her friends who thinks he can cook (it can also be a she) to come and put his talents to work. Yolanda will provide the food and the restaurant and some customers. It's up to the entrant to provide some skill—and also some of the customers by inviting his own friends to come in and find out how good he is.

More about this later. It will probably start in October.

I'M SORRY to report that the Great Wall Restaurant of Frankie Ling and Hung Huey, serving Chinese food, has been closed at the 127 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, address. I imagine a few others are, too—I've had calls from former customers asking what happened.

I now understand that the owners have opened again in the Montgomery Village Shopping Center, Santa Rosa. As far as I know, the place is under the same name.

There are still a number of restaurants serving Chinese food in the county. Alphabetically: Black Point Inn at Black Point; Confucius in Greenbrae; De Borba's in Novato; Eng's in downtown San Rafael; Jasmine House, Larkspur; Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate; Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai, Tiburon, and Travelers Inn in downtown San Rafael.

A HOLIDAY BARGAIN—The "Tahoe Three-Day Pass," a joint venture of South Tahoe motel operators and four big casinos at Stateline, is being offered for Sundays through Thursdays until next spring. It features three days and two nights of excitement for $9.95 a person. Excitement, certainly, if you win something big.

Anyway, included are two nights in a luxury hotel, a bottle of champagne on arrival, breakfast, a total of 10 cocktails at Harrah's, Harvey's, Barney's and the Sahara Tahoe; show reservations in the South Shore Room, Pavilion of Stars and Aspen Grove Theater—and $6 in "Lucky Bucks" to be spent as you desire. Reservations may be made by writing P.O. Box "Pass" at Stateline, Calif.

THIS ITEM from Thomas P. Phelan of Belvedere, president of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, was a toss-up for the business page or the restaurant page. You can see which one won.

A new recipe—Blue Chip Pancakes—says Phelan, was created on the floor of the exchange today to commemorate the listing of International Industries, Inc. common stock. This is the parent company of International House of Pancakes, national franchised restaurant chain.

The recipe was prepared by Peter Marsoobian, International's executive chef, from the company's private formula. As the batter was heating, Marsoobian rimmed the pancake with what he described as a golden syrup to give Blue Chip pancakes their "gilt edge look."

That's as far as we go here.

Marin Dining And Wining

If you want a recipe of the company's dividends and estimated future earnings, consult your local investment counselor.

IF IT SEEMED that the Western National Restaurant Convention and Exposition in San Francisco this week stressed new equipment for quick service, prepared mixes and table-ready foods, it's because most of the 60 million Americans who eat out each week apparently like their restaurants to operate that way.

At least this is the finding of Audits and Surveys, Inc., which has just completed a report on the 378,460 commercial restaurants in the United States. So-called "fast food" establishments accounted for 57 per cent; "white cloth" dineries 22 per cent. Balance was made up almost equally of drive-ins, drug store eating facilities and hotels and motels.

RESTAURATEURS Peter and Tanya Alioto who own two restaurants in San Francisco as well as Alioto's Arbordale in Sausalito, have made a move that's bound to increase their interest in Marin County. They've bought a home in Sleepy Hollow. Before you know it they're not even going to like commuting to the city.

Fair Play Committee Sets Music, Dinner

Dancer Tommy Conine and folk singer Peter Krug will perform Saturday at a potluck dinner for the benefit of the Marin Committee for Fair Play. Music will be provided by the Nightriders.

The dinner and show will be held starting with cocktails at 6 p.m. at the Marin Heliport Building.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?
Well, not for *every*body.
You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.
And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.
But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.
Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

County Bond Sale Early Date Urged

Oct. 26 will be recommended to the Marin County Board of Supervisors as the date to sell $7.75 million in bonds to help finance construction of the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center.

The date was recommended by bonding consultant Stone and Youngberg after a conference with county officials. Bids on construction of the $11 million addition will be called early in November.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell estimated the bonds will be sold at about 3.25 per cent interest. He said Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez can deposit the unused portion of the bond money at 4.25 per cent. This will provide a net interest gain totalling $200,000 over the three-year construction period, Mitchell said.

Stone and Youngberg, retained to advise the county at a fee of $3,500, warned against competing with large Bay Area bond sales contemplated after Nov. 15. The consultants cited a state bond sale of $105 million, a rapid transit district bond sale of $70 million, and an East Bay Municipal Water District bond sale of $35 million.

Marinite Appointed To Key Bay Position

Joseph E. Bodovitz of Mill Valley was appointed executive director of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission at the first meeting of the newly formed commission yesterday in San Francisco.

Bodovitz is a former San Francisco Examiner reporter. He was study director of the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission, which set the stage for creation of the present commission. Subsequently, he was associate executive director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Assn.

State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco), and Assemblyman Nicholas Petris (D-Alameda), co-authors of the act which set up the commission, greeted the 27-members.

Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael, said he and Louis Ets-Hokin of Ross, Marin's two representatives on the commission, each will have to name a proxy to represent him at meetings he cannot attend.

The first meeting was mainly organizational, covering such items as rules for payment of expenses and authorizing a special committee to locate office space, Dr. Upton said. Next meeting will be Oct. 11 at the State Building in San Francisco.

"The commission probably will meet monthly, but it depends on circumstances," Upton said.

The commission has been directed to prepare a plan for the conservation of San Francisco Bay waters and development of the bay shoreline. Pending completion of the plan, it has the power to issue or deny permits for bay filling.

Judge Kills Gen. Walker Libel Suit

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker's $2-million libel suit against two Louisville newspapers and a radio station has been dismissed by U.S. District Judge James F. Gordon.

Richard C. Oldham, Louisville attorney for Walker, said the dismissal Thursday would be appealed to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

The suit against the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times Co., and WHAS, Inc., claimed there was libelous material in accounts of Walker's activities at Oxford, Miss., in the fall of 1962. This was during demonstrations over admission of James Meredith, a Negro, to the school.

Gordon based his action on a U.S. Supreme Court opinion in the case of Sullivan vs. New York Times, which held that a public official is not libeled unless he can prove a statement published about him involves actual malice.

Sailor Upset By Kin At Hearing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—19-year-old sailor accused of attempting to commandeer the John P. Scripps luxury racing yacht attempted to bolt from the courtroom yesterday when he saw his guardian and grandmother sitting inside.

"Get them out of here, get those people out of here," Guy M. Warinner shouted and ran toward the door. Young Warinner, who was barefoot, was subdued by guards.

His case on charges of attempted kidnap and burglary was continued at least until today to permit appointment of an attorney for him.

Army Purchases New Type Radar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army is developing a new type of mobile radar known as "HIPAR" to be deployed with U.S. units at home and overseas.

The Army announced Thursday that an $8.1 million contract has been awarded to General Electric Co. for its production. It will include a 43-foot-wide antenna hauled on five semi-trailers each pulled by a five-ton truck tractor.

HIPAR (High Power Acquisition Radar) will operate in conjunction with the Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile, the Army said, and will give "full target detection capability for Army air defense units overseas."

Mariner Will Be Silent A While

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Mariner IV spacecraft, America's longest and most complex deep space probe, will lose its "voice" next week.

The federal space agency said yesterday it will send a signal to turn off the telemetry voice of the spacecraft, which has been transmitting for 300 days and 410 million miles on a journey that included the historic photographic fly-by of Mars.

It may be turned on again in mid-1967 when the spacecraft and earth will be close enough for an attempt to resume communications on one of the antennas, the agency said.

Spanish Guitar Concerts Slated

Juan Serrano, internationally famous Spanish guitarist, will give a series of concerts commencing tomorrow at the Gate Theater in Sausalito.

The concerts will be given five consecutive days. Times are as follows: Saturday, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.; Sunday 3, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.; Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Theater owner Bunty Mordant said that due to the size of the Gate Theater, Serrano will present a "more intimate and less formal concert" than usually offered in a large auditorium.

Enrollment At College Up 35 Pct.

Enrollment at the College of Marin is up about 35 per cent over last year, dean of students Irwin P. Diamond told the Marin Junior College District board last night.

There are 2,723 students taking nine units or more of classes, and 1,960 "special" students taking less than nine units. He said 300 to 400 of the special students would add courses to become full time students.

Last year at the same time there were 2,304 full time students and 1,466 special students.

The Marin Junior College District also:

1. Awarded a contract for landscaping the new parking lot near the football field to Cagwin and Dorward, San Rafael, lower of two bidders at $12,850.

2. Hired William H. Stellwagen as district construction supervisor at $1,150 a month, and Howard Fletcher as campus policeman for $497 a month.

3. Approved opening a new apprenticeship course for operating engineers.

Felons Returning In Armored Car

Two convicts who escaped San Quentin Prison last month were to make a lonely six-hour journey by road back to their cells today accompanied by heavily armed officers who know their orders: "Don't take any chances."

Already a wall of security has surrounded Donald Padgett, 31, and Harold Roney, 35, who are being returned from The Dalles, Ore., where they were caught in a stolen car 12 days after they escaped from San Quentin Aug. 11.

The two men were serving terms for armed robbery and both have records of previous escapes. While in Oregon awaiting extradition proceedings, three files and a pocket knife were found in their cells.

Only a handful of people today know the route the armored squad car is taking along quiet roads.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park explained: "We consider this a routine assignment, but we have dispatched two senior, well-experienced men up there who know their jobs.

"They are well armed and will try to make no stops on the return journey. Padgett and Roney have acquired a reputation for escaping."

The escapees used a hook to get over the San Quentin wall while a guard was decoyed by a telephone call.

Meanwhile, there was no further trace today of the two convicted killers, Jimmie L. Bushbaum, 29, and Arthur G. Jones, 32, who fled from the prison's minimum security area Sept. 16.

A stolen car they used to make their escape was found in Alameda County Wednesday but offered no clue to the whereabouts of the murder partners.

Tuberculin Testing To Start Monday

Tuberculin testing of Marin school children, started in 1963, will be resumed Monday at Mill Valley's Mount Carmel Parochial School, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. announced today.

Of the 7,173 students tested to date, 118 reacted. An early-stage case of tuberculosis was found in a student and an additional case was found in a student's household.

The Mount Carmel test is a joint effort of the school, headed by Rev. Mother Mary Agnes, the Marin County Health Department and the TB association.

Close to 100 per cent of the approximately 400 students and 40 adults are expected to receive tests from two volunteer physicians, Dr. Patricia Hallinan, assistant health officer, and Dr. Lorraine McBain.

Those tested will be examined for reactions next Thursday morning by Mrs. June Nelson, Health Department clinic nurse.

The tuberculin test, the TB association explains, can detect tuberculosis danger before damage occurs. A drop of germ-free liquid is placed just under the surface layer of skin of the arm. A reaction—localized redness and hardness—means the reactor has been infected with TB germs.

Snow died of a gunshot wound in the head. Two highway patrolman said a .38 pistol lay near Snow.

The sheriff's department said it believed Snow's death was a homicide.

Snow, whose age officers said was "in the fifties," was married and lived in Walnut Creek.

Fire Reduces Fairfax House To Skeleton

Firemen who dashed about two blocks from the fire station to the two-story house at 248 Bolinas Road were faced with a roaring blaze. The fire left only the skeleton of the house, but firemen had no estimate of the loss.

A neighbor, Mrs. James Grant, at 260 Bolinas Road, said "the whole house went up real quick." Her husband sprayed water from a garden hose on their home, two houses away from the burning building, to cool it down.

Mrs. Diana D. Shearin was was confined in bed with a broken foot at her home at 242 Bolinas Road, next to the blazing house.

The fire discovered by police officer Gurney Cook who saw the flames as he drove by on patrol.

"Flames were way up in the air" by the time firemen arrived only a few minutes later at about 9:15 p.m., fireman Jean Lestanguet said. Seventeen firemen and volunteers turned out to fight the blaze.

The cause of the fire, believed to have started in the rear of the home, was undetermined today as firemen continued their investigation. The house had been vacant for about 10 days. It is owned by Clark Gilman of Travis Air Force Base.

Farmers Eligible For Fire Loans

Disaster loans at three per cent interest are available to farmers in both Marin and Sonoma counties, according to Elmer G. Wendell, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration in Santa Rosa.

Applications for loans may be made to the Santa Rosa office, he announced.

Loans are available for replacing and repairing buildings damaged or lost in the recent fires, also for purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, equipment, livestock, etc. to replace that lost in the fires.

Sweeping Rights Changes Ordered

Johnson said the aim of the reorganization will be to achieve greater coordination of federal efforts to eliminate discrimination.

The President acted on recommendations by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who said "we want to get people out of each other's way."

As a result of the changes, the civil rights responsibilities of the attorney general and the secretary of labor will be broadened, the Civil Rights Commission will be given new fact-finding chores and the Commerce Department's Community Relations Service will be transferred to the Justice Department.

Two existing organizations, the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity and the President's Council on Equal Opportunity will be abolished. The functions of these groups will be taken over by the Cabinet departments.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers issued a statement which outlined a six-point reorganization:

1. The Civil Service Commission will be responsible for making certain the federal government does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color or sex in employment, promotion and other personnel policies.

2. The secretary of labor "will assume responsibility for reviewing discrimination complaints and insuring compliance by government contractors with nondiscrimination requirements."

Secretary W. Willard Wirtz will be concerned solely with contractors. Promotion of non-discrimination among private businesses which are not contractors will continue to rest with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

3. The Community Relations Service will be transferred to the Justice Department "and the attorney general will as necessary call upon appropriate departments with expert knowledge and positive programs to conciliate disputes."

This would be accomplished through a reorganization plan to be submitted to Congress next year.

4. The Civil Rights Commission will take over the clearinghouse and data-gathering functions of the Community Relations Service and thus will become the principal fact-finding agency in the civil rights field.

5. The Justice Department will be responsible for coordinating all the federal enforcement policies in the civil rights area, some of which have rested with the Council on Equal Opportunity.

6. The plans for progress program to encourage voluntary nondiscrimination pledges from private employers will be continued on a private voluntary basis.

Federal Aid Is Asked By College Board

Federal and state grants totaling $389,385.96 were requested last night in a series of actions by the Marin Junior College District board.

The bulk of the money, from the state, will come in two installments in the 1967 and 1968 fiscal years for new construction under the $50 million Proposition 2 bond issue approved by the voters last year.

TWO AMOUNTS

The amount going to the district, based on a complicated formula concerned mainly with expected enrollment growth, will be $164,973.93 the first year and $97,231.83 the next year.

James W. Duke, director of planning and research for the district, said that because of deadlines, the district will not be able to use $52,930 in federal money for either the music-drama-speech building or the science building.

He told the board to apply for the money anyway. He said it could be used to buy equipment for science courses and for the library. The music-drama-speech building has been started too early and the science building will be started too late to receive the funds, he explained.

NO AUTHORIZATION

The board agreed to ask for the money, although no specific purchases of equipment were authorized.

The rest of the federal money, $74,247.50, was requested under the vocational education act. The largest items were $26,250 for a work study project for vocational education students, and $23,590 to help pay for data processing equipment now in use.

Also, $13,905 will be used to pay the salary of Vocational Coordinator William J. Collins, $3,967 to add to the tape library of the shorthand laboratory, $3,862.50 to add to the sales and marketing program and $2,672 to add to the business classes.

Span Meeting Set

The building and operating committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has called a meeting for 10:30 a.m. Oct. 5, at the Administration Building at the Toll Plaza.

Larkspur Trustees Reject After School Rec Request

The Larkspur School District Board last night turned down a city of Larkspur request for $1,871 toward a program of after-school recreation on the school playgrounds.

Larkspur parks and recration director Robert C. Bundy said the result of this denial would be no organized after-school recreation for pupils in the fifth grade and lower..

School district Supt. Milton S. Cohen confirmed this, saying that the district sponsors its own after-school athletic program for students in sixth through eighth grades.

"The board felt that during the winter, when it gets dark by 5 p.m., it is best for the younger children to get home," he said.

Cohen said the board offered the city the use of school grounds and buildings for any after-school program it wished to pursue. However, Bundy said that without financial aid from the school district the city "will not be able to run a program from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at the schools."

The Larkspur School District Board also:

1. Authorized Cohen to call for bids for blacktopping of school grounds in the district and turfing at Neil Cummins School. Cohen estimated the project will cost $20,000.

2. Heard from Cohen that the addition of four classrooms and a library at Henry C. Hall School and two classrooms at San Clemente School would be complete next week.

3. Heard a report that the number of books in the school libraries has increased by 75 per cent in the last two years and that four half-time library clerks have been added to the staff..

4. Met the district's new full-time psychologist, Lynn Jenks.

5. Hired Mrs. Phyllis Wagstaff as part-time secretary at Neil Cummins School.

Mill Valley Trustees Will Meet Tomorrow

Mill Valley school board will hold a special meeting tomorrow at Edna Maguire School to discuss proposed expansion of school facilities. The meeting will start at 9 a.m. with a coffee reception and discussion will commence at 9:30 a.m. Called a "workshop session," it may continue during the afternoon, Supt. G. R. McConnell said.

Dr. William L. Cunningham, superintendent of Hayward Unified School District, who is the board's educational consultant, and architect William Corlett are to meet with the board.

Sausalitan Taken To Mental Hospital

James Ashlock, 23, of 409 Napa Street, Sausalito, was taken to Napa State Hospital by Marin Ambulance early today after he reportedly cut both wrists with a razor blade at his home.

Police, called at 12:18 a.m., administered first aid.

Parks, Rec Center On Board's Agenda

San Rafael park and recreation commissioners Wednesday will meet with Dan Coleman Associates to discuss development of the Nunes Ranch Park site. The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the City Hall.

The commission will also consider what will be done about programs at the American Legion Hall, which is to be removed to make way for a supermarket. Music director Hugo Rinaldi has asked permission to conduct a city-sponsored concert series at the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo.

Woman's Purse, $40 Stolen From Auto

Isabel Chesnut of Sausalito told Mill Valley police at 5:27 p.m. yesterday that, while her car was parked at 234 Sycamore Avenue, someone stole her wallet containing $40.

NEW PARTY BUYS TIBURON PROPERTY

Moor Exercises Waterfront Option, Sells Prime Acreage To San Franciscan

A different developer, Michel Demaurex of San Francisco, has taken over control of 18 acres of Tiburon waterfront land in prime downtown location.

The property was sold for an undisclosed amount of money by Robert Moor, president of Tiburon Tidelands Co., who for three years has controlled an option to purchase the property from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The sale took place Sept. 13, Moore told the Independent-Journal today, the same day he exercised his option with the railroad and bought the property.

Moor's firm will remain in the picture as lessee from Demaurex. Moor said Tiburon Yacht Club's suboption with Tiburon Tidelands also has been taken over by Demaurex. The club and Moor hope to construct a 180-berth commercial yacht harbor and a restaurant-shops building on the property.

The area consists of 12 underwater acres and six acres on land between Main and Mar West streets. The harbor and restaurant building are planned for the portion between Main Street and the railroad ferry slip.

Restaurant and harbor construction are contingent on approval of use permits by the Tiburon Planning Commission and city council.

The Tiburon Tidelands-Tiburon Yacht Club use permit requests have been continued until a downtown planning study, which will include the waterfront area, has been completed by the Tiburon architectural firm of Callister and Payne, who have been hired by the city.

The consultant firm reports it is "working as fast as possible" on the study but that no completion date has been set. Moor said he will continue to seek the permits.

State Still Cool To Hub School Fund Proposals

San Anselmo School District trustees met with Supt. Stephen Parodi in his office yesterday in hope he would be able to report the promise of state aid in construction of two classrooms at Hidden Valley School.

Parodi told them he had nothing to report and there was some doubt whether the aid would be forthcoming.

The district would like to provide two classrooms at Isabel Cook School for county special education courses in exchange for state funds to finance the construction of two rooms at Hidden Valley. Parodi said the state representatives he talked to indicated they felt the county-state sponsored courses should be offered in the classrooms to be constructed, not the older rooms at Isabel Cook School.

Fairfax Trustees Set School Site Visits

Trustees of Fairfax School District will meet at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow ata Central School for a tour of the district's three schools and the site of the school to be constructed.

Special attention will be givin to the Deer Park School playground to which the district hopes to add an acre for which it is now negotiating, Supt. Homer L. Sisk said.

Bishops Argue Modernity Of Heaven, Hell

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—An Ecumenical Council prelate today suggested the old church view of heaven and hell "is out of date in an interplanetary age."

Belgin Bishop Andre Charue of Namur made the observation in debate of a document "On the Church in the Modern World." The council overwhelmingly endorsed the document as a basis for discussion by a vote of 2,111 to 44 announced in St. Peters Basilica today.

Bishop Charue's criticism tied in with suggestions made by some bishops previously that the church's discussion of the modern world should consider the space age and even the possibility of intelligent creatures of other planets.

Bishop Charue's point was that in an age of space exploration the traditional physical view of Paradise in the sky is no longer subtle enough for modern man's religious beliefs.

In contrast, Italian Bishop Giuseppe Marafini of Veroli and Frosinone said the church should remind men that the devil is about in the modern world.

"The documents ignores the presence of evil," he said in urging a more fundamentalist view. "We should remind men of the devil in the modern world."

There were 12 speakers in all, who agreed that the document was oversimple in its solutions of modern problems. The vote, taken yesterday but only announced this morning, showed, however, they were enthusiastic to tackle the problem.

Grand Jury Checking Gallinas District Issue

A committee of the Marin County Grand Jury today began looking into the allegedly irregular conduct of the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Grand Jury Foreman George R. Scott said he expects a report from the municipalities, districts and commissions committee, headed by former county treasurer M. F. Donohue, at the full meeting of the jury next Wednesday.

The closed committee session began at the Civic Center at 9 a.m. today.

The investigation was prompted by persistent complaints from Albert R. Borden of 707 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, who charged that district directors had violated several sections of the state code in conducting district business.

Borden alleged misuse of public funds, violation of the Ralph M. Brown Act forbidding secret meetings, and misconduct of district elections.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said today he has placed audit of the district's books on top priority. This followed a visit of Borden to Mitchell's office.

Mitchell said district directors had earlier made a routine request for an annual audit by the county office. For autonomous districts such as Gallinas Village, this is done on a fee based on time spent in the work by auditors.

Mitchell said Borden specifically asked that he look into alleged approval of warrants by only two members of the board on Sept. 12, 1963. On a five-member board, a quorum of three would be required to authorize payments.

Mitchell was also asked to look into a special budget session June 17 of this year which Borden claimed was held without proper notice.

Borden also requested Mitchell to look into allocation on April 8 of this year of $200 to the Little League to help build sanitary facilities on Santa Venetia Junior High School playground. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who provides legal advice for the district, said yesterday he saw nothing illegal in the donation to the Little League.

Mexico Brings Parking Fine

NOGALES, Mex. (AP) — A University of California professor was convicted yesterday of illegally parking his car along a Mexican highway.

He paid a fine of 600 pesos—$48.

Dr. A. E. Michelbacher, an entomologist at the Berkeley campus, still faces a charge of contributing to homicide.

In an accident near Santa Ana, Mexico, Aug. 19 a man was killed when a government truck hit Michelbacher's unoccupied car. The Californian said he parked by the side of the road to check some plants.

Switzerland has designated 1965 as the "Year of the Alps" to commemorate the first ascent of the Matterhorn on July 14, 1865.

Redistricting Marks Time On Lawmakers' Weekend

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislators relaxed on their initial three - day weekend of the special session today, pointing toward first action next week on reapportionment and medicare.

Yesterday, lawmakers met briefly, then headed for home, not due back at the Capitol until 3 p.m. Monday.

However, hearings have been set in the Assembly that should bring initial action of the year's third legislative gathering.

Leaders planned to bring the lower house reapportionment bill to a public hearing Tuesday, and have it on the floor by Thursday, with passage expected the following week.

Chairman Don Allen, D - Los Angeles, of the Elections and Reapportionment Committee told fellow assemblymen that he will meet over the weekend with those whose districts will be altered.

Both houses are under court orders to redistrict by Dec. 9 along strict population lines, or the State Supreme Court will impose its own two-year reapportionment plan. The Assembly plan isn't expected to cause much of an upheaval in the current 80 districts, but the geography-based Senate is in store for a major facelifting.

Any change will be an improvement.

All we do when we change the Volkswagen is to make it work even better.

We don't play with the way it looks.

So the 1966 VW still looks the same.

And there you have the whole Volkswagen point of view:

We keep looking for ways to improve it.

And then we knock our brains out to make the new pieces fit old VWs, too.

All the improvements make a fat book.

And every one has made the car a touch better than it was before.

This year, the backs of the front seats can be locked so they won't push forward. Engine power's increased for the 4th time. And the windshield has a 3rd defroster (so you'll see where you're going in such a hurry).

This system not only makes the VW better all the time, but also makes parts easier to get, mechanics more skillful and owners always in style.

And we can still keep the price reasonable.

Handgun Restrictions Are Subject To Change

As far as we can gather, there is no movement afoot to deprive citizens of all handguns (pistols and revolvers).

As a practical matter, we suspect that social law and order will have to reach the state where individuals and families are completely safe from attack before an outright ban on private ownership of handguns is imposed.

But this need not preclude us from ever expressing hope that some day in the future, more restriction can be imposed on private possession of handguns.

Environment has much to do with the degree of need for pistols and revolvers on private persons, in their homes or cars.

In the pioneer days when the gun was the law of the land, every man carried his rifle and knife the moment he left his front door. He had no police department or U.S. Army close at hand to call upon for help.

But as law and order gradually replaced the wild West, the need for every individual to protect himself 24 hours a day diminished. He came more and more to depend on the police, the sheriff, and the regularly constituted state and federal militia.

That's quite a change from the days when the first reaction would have been: "Where's my gun!"

The change has been for the better. We would not want to revert back to law of the jungle, where the strongest rule.

Even the biggest bully, who prides himself on his fast draw, is probably happier to know that today, even at old age, he is just as safe as he was when his hand was quicker than the next man's.

Our ideas change with environment. So can our laws.

Already, we have restrictions on the use of handguns. We may carry concealed weapons only by special permit. Ex-convicts are not allowed to have handguns. Neither are persons addicted to narcotics.

The Constitutional right to keep and bear arms is therefore not all-encompassing. Restrictions have been made and probably will be made in the future, as society sees fit.

We are convinced that any future restrictions will take into consideration the sportsmen, collectors, gun clubs, and special circumstances.

Barring a breakdown in law and order, we would be inclined to favor more restrictions on the use of weapons, not less.

Certainly, a sane and orderly discussion of restrictions on handguns is no cause for alarm.

TRAIN WRECKS HOUSE, BUT HOUSE MOVER PAYS

A train hit a house near Jacksonville, Florida—but the house mover, not the railroad, paid the damages.

When the engineer rounded a curve, he was startled to spot a one-story frame house astride the tracks a short distance ahead.

He managed to reduce the speed of his train from 79 to 20 m.p.h., but he couldn't bring it to a stop before it had demolished the house. Fortunately nobody was hurt.

Later, the mover sued the railroad for damages to the house as well as to his rig. But he had scarcely filed his claim when the railroad put in a counterclaim for damages to its train and signal equipment.

The jury, however, decided that the house mover was at fault. So he had to pay both the railroad and the owner of the house.

When things go wrong, most of us tend to put the blame elsewhere. But if we are fair with God, others and ourselves, we will first examine our own consciences to see where we may have failed.

"Why do you see the speck in your brother's eye, and yet do not consider the beam in your own eye?" (Matthew 7:3)

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Marinite Dissolves Third Party To Get On Reagan Bandwagon

By WAT TAKESHITA

THE REPUBLICAN conservatives are almost solidly lining up behind the Ronald Reagan-for-Governor movement.

Fred Ullner, the Larkspur TV man who started a third party last January, is going to the extent of dissolving his New Conservative Party "in the interest of unity and to back Reagan."

Takeshita

Ullner, who campaigned for Barry Goldwater and then started the 26 Million Club and the New Conservative Party, says he decided to dissolve his third party after talking to actor Reagan this week by telephone.

"I'm going to re-register as a Republican because I am now registered under the New Conservative Party," said Ullner. "I urge all of our followers to re-register as Republicans and get behind Reagan."

THE GOP MODERATES, who were looking to Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel as their champion in California, are undecided as to whom to pick as the new rallying point.

There's George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco; former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight; Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles; and "dark horse" Robert T. Monagan of Tracy, minority leader of the State Assembly.

MONAGAN, 45, is being groomed by a group of young moderates in Sacramento, including Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael.

The Monagan drive is not meant to scuttle the chances of either Christopher or Waters, Bagley explains.

"Between now and January, there's got to be a gravitation toward one person," says Bagley. If the campaigns for Christopher and Waters fail to catch fire, then he wants some kind of insurance in the form of Monagan, "young, clean and articulate."

Bagley himself has been mentioned as a possible contender for the job of state controller. "This will have to wait until the end of the year to see what type of ticket congeals," the Marin Assemblyman declared.

MARIN SEN. John F. McCarthy is having his problems. The coming Senate reapportionment is bound to increase the senate district to at least three counties.

They've got one plan that would lump Marin in with 10 other counties and give that entire area two senators. This certainly doesn't sit well with McCarthy, who now represents Marin alone.

ROBERT SETRAKIAN of Kentfield, the newly elected Northern California treasurer for the Democratic State Central Committee, has quite a record for fund raising activities. He worked on the finance committees for President Kennedy in 1960, Governor Brown in 1962, and President Johnson in 1964.

REMEMBER WHEN?

20 YEARS AGO

The Rafael Theater in San Rafael was showing "You Belong to Me" with Henry Fonda and Barbara Stanwyck, and "She Knew All the Answers" with Joan Bennett and Franchot Tone.

The doors of the new Marin County Red Cross Chapter House at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, were opened to the public.

Rev. Noble Owings of Belmont was named rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, succeeding Rev. Frederick Avery, who planned to return to Denver.

The Marin Dormitories, which at the peak of Marinship production housed 1,700 workers, were to close after serving as housing married couples and refugee families from the Philippines.

The victory campaign of the Marin War Chest opened in a drive for funds to support eight Marin agencies and the National War Fund.

One of the worst fires in the history of Marin burned 17,000 acres of brush and trees in West Marin and on Mount Tamalpais and threatened Stinson Beach.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Is There Confusion About Behr's Views?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For the last few days it seems as though your readers have been picking on poor Mr. Peter H. Behr, one of our prominent men in Marin County.

There must be a mix-up as to who wants to ban private firearms. Certainly they don't think a man in his position would make such an irresponsible, ridiculous statement as was printed in the Sept. 17 issue of the Independent-Journal. It must be the fault of one of your typesetters. Couldn't you, for our sake, find out who really did make that foolish, rather un-American statement?

Try Self-Control, But Don't Outlaw Guns

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Supervisor Behr has taken a good point about handguns. However, prohibitions seldom are feasible or desireable. Self-control in proper use of everything is our democratic ideal. As with anything under human control, we should not be discouraged by an imperfect society. We should try to live for the good of all as well as of our own selves, so we will not jeopardize our chances for democratic government.

Handguns in wrong hands (through intention and accident) have led to too much death, injury, and shock from fright. Scaredy cats are not always in the danger they fear. They are the ones to make mistakes with guns when they panic or lose their temper. There are other ways to withstand siege from an intruder, or flight and hiding may be possible. One should not be squeamish about inflicting injury in self-protection. But who wants a lifetime burden of recalling death he caused for any reason if it could have been avoided?

Raise Bridge Tolls To Help Car Pools

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Much has been written and much "viewing-with-alarm" has been expressed as to the Golden Gate Bridge having now or in the immediate future reaching its capacity in rush-hour traffic.

The bridge board and/or other governing bodies, have voted and paid out many large sums to various sharp-shooting firms or individual "specialists" who had promised to tell them what could be done and there has been no solution.

. . . A few days ago, at the junction of Tiburon Boulevard and Trestle Glen Drive, at a few minutes after 7 a.m., I made a short check and within 12 minutes counted 42 cars going in before a single car passed with more than one person, the driver, in the car and then the same ratio resumed.

Presuming that this was but a typical week-day morning and presuming that the bridge board are actually concerned with anything more than ways in which to siphon off the bridge-toll-money—if it would be desirable to have 220 to 250 cars crossing during the peak hours instead of one thousand, why then do they not make the toll per car one dollar from 6:30 a.m. until 8:30 a.m. and thereby promote the now almost abandoned "car-pool" idea? . . .

Two different daily commuters have each told me—yes there were three or more they immediately thought of coming from nearby to the same building, each in his own car; and after arriving having each seek out his own parking-space.

An idea as basic and apparent would without doubt meet with much opposition. Probably they would try to claim that there were even "legal objections" to putting into effect.

It would work a hardship on the various firms of "consultants"—"experts"—and "research-specialists" who have for many years making a fat thing out of bridge toll funds.

Outlawing Handguns Harms Good Men

Editor, Independent-Journal:

May I add my two cents' worth in this discussion on private armament? Thank you, I shall be brief.

Have you heard the saying, "Locks are only to keep honest people out."? Lock up your valuables as tightly as you wish; if the burglars want them ,they will get them.

The same is true of armament, whether handguns, or hunting arms — pass laws against them by the dozens—the crooks will have guns aplenty. Are not Thompson sub-machine guns illegal for anyone except the military and the law enforcement agenices? Still, the underworld has been known to possess this arm, and no doubt has many more of them in hiding. What do they care for law?

Good citizens are going to be good citizens, whether armed or not. Taking the gun away from a bad citizen by law means nothing; he will get another, or several more, perhaps, by means of channels known only to people of his ilk.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

AT THE AGE of eighty, Aaron Burr was still openly flirting with the more comely girls in his village of Harlem. One day the postmaster there was astonished to see Mrs. Burr drive up in an open carriage, brandishing two formidable horse-pistols. "What do you wish, Madam?" quavered the postmaster. "What do I wish?" cried Mrs. Burr. "Let me get at the villain Aaron Burr!"

TWO HISTORICAL footnotes: When George IV of England sallied forth in 1795 to marry his cousin, Princess Caroline of Brunswick, he gallantly kissed her hand, then recoiling, ordered his aide in a stage whisper, "For God's sake, man, fetch me a glass of brandy!"

James Boswell once pointed out to his patron saint, Samuel Johnson, that there was no record of a beggar ever dying for want in the streets of Scotland. "I believe you are right," admitted Johnson, "but this does not arise from the want of beggars, but the impossibility of starving a Scotsman!"

PARSON GOODENOUGH pulled his organist aside and whispered, "I'm now about to ask every member of the congregation prepared to contribute ten dollars to my new television series to stand up. Meanwhile, I want you to play an appropriate tune." "Like what?" asked the organist. "Like 'The Star Spangled Banner,'" answered the parson.

Republican Party Has No Issues Suitable For Presidential Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the best reason former President Dwight D. Eisenhower seems able to think of now for telling voters to go Republican next time is that the country needs a two-party system.

BUT THAT'S NOT an issue, the usual basis on which voters choose between the parties.

Last month Eisenhower was asked specifically what he thought Republicans should make campaign issues of in next year's elections, the first big test since their devastating defeat in 1964.

He mentioned fiscal responsibility, frugality, self-dependence, self-reliance, self-respect and integrity. But he himself so far hasn't been at deep odds with President Johnson's administration on any of those subjects.

The Republican leadership in general hasn't been any more specific than Eisenhower on issues to wrap around the Democrats' necks, except for occasional criticisms that seem to melt away.

Republicans cut themselves up so badly with intraparty antagonisms in the 1964 campaign, and were so smashed in the election, that they haven't yet recovered any kind of broad voice to show how they differ from Democrats.

INSTEAD, much of their time has been taken up trying to heal last year's wounds and finding some way to save the party from being ruined altogether by splinter groups.

They have no top leader. Usually a defeated presidential candidate is considered the titular head of his party until the next election when he or someone else carries the party flag.

But this month Barry Goldwater, who led the Republicans to their 1964 disaster, said he doesn't consider himself the party's titular head. And, if he tried to be, he'd have a lot of opposition.

At this point there is not one Republican who looks like a sure bet even to try for the presidential nomination in 1968, although Richard M. Nixon, as usual between elections, is in the public eye.

THE ONLY fairly consistent pecking and picking on Johnson has come from House Republicans, particularly from their leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, but he is not getting much mileage out of it.

The House Republicans had tried to make an issue of the origin of U. S. policy—that is, the military involvement — in Viet Nam. Johnson had said he was following the policy of Eisenhower and President John F. Kennedy in promising and making good on American aid to the South Vietnamese.

House Republicans tried to stress that Eisenhower's help was economic, not military, but, just as they were stressing it. Eisenhower said it was "rot" to suggest a difference between him and Johnson on Viet Nam. He backed Johnson.

For awhile the House Republicans obviously thought they had an issue on Johnson's decision to drop the fight to make the Soviet Union and 12 other nations pay their share of the United Nations' peacekeeping costs.

But Eisenhower backed Johnson on that, too. Nixon took pretty much the same position as Eisenhower on Viet Nam and the American backdown in the United Nations.

JOHNSON'S handling of his constant critic, Ford, gives a good insight into the President's political technique. When he knows he has wide support on a problem, he avoids a fight that would give his opponent extra publicity.

U.S. May Lose Use Of Pakistan 'Ears'

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The U.S. has a stake in the menacing India-Pakistan-Red China war crisis which authorities here are carefully saying nothing about, but which is of utmost moment.

THIS SUPREMELY important stake is a series of electronic monitoring stations strategically located in Pakistan that are providing the U.S. with an invaluable flow of information about Russian and Red Chinese military and other operations — missile launchings, troop movements, etc.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff are gravely concerned that U.S. resumption of arms aid to India will cause the loss of these irreplaceable monitoring facilities in Pakistan.

It is feared that Pakistan, in retaliation for combat aid to India, will seize or shut down these stations.

Friendly Pakistan officials have disclosed that President Ayub Khan is under heavy Peiping pressure to suppress these priceless U.S. intelligence facilities.

The monitoring stations were set up in Pakistan in 1961, following the discontinuance of U-2 reconnaissance flights over the Soviet.

EQUIPPED WITH some $30 million of the most advanced electronic devices and instruments, these stations are rated by intelligence authorities as the "best ears and eyes the U.S. has abroad."

Adding to the Joint Chiefs' apprehensions over the fate of these invaluable monitoring stations was an apparent attack by Indian bombers on one located near a Pakistan airfield.

This base is quite distant from the fighting zones, and at the time, no Pakistan planes were on this field. The only target worth bombing was the nearby U.S. monitoring station.

If that was the case, the attack was futile. The Indian bombs missed. The Indian government has been asked for an explanation.

It is particularly baffling because, on President Lyndon B. Johnson's personal orders, India is now being supplied with U.S. intelligence about Red Chinese troop movements and other vital military information.

Also, U-2 planes based on Formosa are flying reconnaissance missions over Indian-Chinese border areas. The planes land on Indian airfields.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., member of the influential Finance Committee and leading advocate of the convening of an international monetary conference to put an end to the heavy draining of U.S. gold reserves, has bluntly advised President Johnson to ignore President Charles de Gaulle's persistent obstructionism.

THE HAUGHTY French leader was characterized by Hartke as a "hollow barrel that emits an ominous sound but is without substance."

He contended de Gaulle is incapable of obstructing plans to initiate a new world monetary system, and they should be vigorously pressed regardless of his opposition.

Administration insiders are saying flatly President Johnson will soon clear the way for U.S. wheat sales to Russia. They are indicating he will do this after Congress enacts the multibillion dollar foreign aid budget now pending in the Senate. It is being hinted the president will do away with the 1963 shipping restriction on Soviet wheat sales and at the same time considerably increase subsidies to the merchant marine.

The U.S. Information Agency is asking Congress for a supplementary appropriation of $12 million to build and man a high-powered radio station in Thailand — for broadcasting throughout Southeast Asia. If this additional money is granted, as is likely, that will increase total USIA funds for this fiscal year to $183 million.

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert H. Humphrey is doing quite a bit of foreign traveling — on paper. The Minnesotan is using possible trips abroad as a means of ducking speaking and other engagements he wants to pass up. In two known instances he declined such invitations from strong supporters on the ground he was slated to go abroad. But in neither case did he leave the U.S. In another letter, he turned down a December speaking engagement on the claim he will be out of the country around then.

ART BUCHWALD

Citizens' Cult Of Avoiding All Involvement Might Pay Off...

WASHINGTON—We've seen examples of ordinary citizens who have witnessed crimes and done nothing about them. Their excuse has been they didn't want to get involved.

If we reach the ultimate of the non-violent syndrome, we may have something like this:

"Please, I don't want to become involved."

"What do you mean, you don't want to become involved? I'm holding you up."

"Sh-sh-sh, not so loud. You'll wake up the neighbors and then they'll be mad at me because they didn't come to my aid."

"All right then, hand over your wallet."

"Why should I hand over my wallet? If I do, then I'll have to go to the police and report it. They'll ask me a lot of questions. I'll lose time at work. Go hold up somebody else."

The holdup man says, "No, sir, I'm holding you up. I've been waiting here two hours for someone to come along. Now, let's have no more chatter."

JUST THEN a man goes by. "Hello, Harry, what are you doing out so late?"

"I'm being held up by this fellow."

"Hand over the money," the gunman says.

"You're making a mistake. Suppose they catch you? Then I'll have to go to court and testify. You know how much time that takes? Maybe your case won't be called for months. You may hire a lawyer who will get you a postponement. I'll have to come back again. I don't make a good witness. Maybe your lawyer will twist my story around. They're smart fellows."

JUST AS the holdup man lifts his pistol, a window opens and the man's wife shouts, "Harry, why don't you come upstairs?"

"We don't want any trouble. Tell him to go away."

"I can't. He wants my money. Maybe you should call the police."

"I didn't think so."

Another window opens. "What's going on down there?"

"So tell him to go to another street. He's going to give the block a bad name."

"COME ON, mister. You're waking up the entire neighborhood," the holdup man says. "I'm giving you one more chance and that's all."

"Mister, if it wasn't for all the trouble, I'd give you my money. But instead I'm going to give you a good rap on the head."

Harry takes his umbrella and smacks the holdup man on the head. The holdup man is so surprised he drops his gun. Harry keeps hitting the man on the head until he knocks him out.

Just then a prowl car comes along and the cops jump out. They see the man sprawled out, his pistol next to him.

"What happened?" the policeman asks.

"I DIDN'T SEE anything," Harry says. "I was walking by and the man fainted. It must have been the heat. Or maybe it was something he ate."

COUNTY COMMENT

State Flabbergasts Supervisors Over Veterans Memorial Name

FUSSELMAN

RESPECT for governmental agencies—national, state and local—is the essential ingedient necessary to preserve our form of government. If there is faith in the officials on the part of our people, nothing can erode our nation.

There is one matter pending, which although not earth-shaking, points this up. A week ago an article appeared in the I-J with this leadoff: ". . . moment of speechlessness struck members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors . . .when they learned that state officials objected to the proposed (name) Veterans Memorial Auditorium . . . board chairman Peter H. Behr revealed . . . high officials in the state department of agriculture are insisting that the building proposed at the Civic Center be called 'Marin County Fair Building.' "

HERE IS some background on the situation: years before local fair activities took shape, former supervisor James Kehoe and I spearheaded the plan to accumulate a fund for a veterans memorial of some sort as a permanent reminder of the gratitude the citizens of our county felt for those who served in World Wars I and II. (And of course this includes those of the later conflicts.)

In 1960 I called on each of the veteran's posts and obtained their whole-hearted approval of a $300,000 loan to build new juvenile hall facilities that were so badly needed. This has all been paid back into the fund. It now has reached $681,039.

LATER, when we were struggling to work out a method of financing a local fairground site, the state agreed that if we constructed a veterans memorial building on such a site and if it were used for 10 days or so each year for fair purposes we would be fulfilling the requirements.

The state then would permit us to use the state pari-mutal race track money we had accumulated, through the operation of the annual event at the Marin Art and Garden grounds in Ross, for the purchase of a site. Eighty acres was purchased at the Civic Center.

AS TIME has gone on, a plan has developed for a more elaborate layout to match the elegance of the Civic Center. This will cost some $2 million or more. State pari-mutuel money at the rate of $100,000 a year has been set aside at Sacramento to the amount of $525,000 (less than Marin's accumulation of $681,039). There is such an eagerness to get fair buildings up that the plan of using the Veterans Memorial Fund money in conjunction with the state money has been evolved. What is contemplated will require local tax money, also, over and above the levy for the veterans fund.

I think you will agree that the supervisors had every reason to be astonished at the demand from Sacramento. It would seem to me that Senator McCarthy and Assemblyman Bagley should be requested to intercede. Certainly the expression of respect and appreciation, by the people of our county, should not be erased from the inscription on the building.

In A Country Of Lunatics, Dogs Bark At Strolling Foreigners

A dog on our block named Saber, who likes to bark for the joy of life, was found barking at an old gentleman with a beard who was out for a walk the other day.

Our correspondent reports that the man, apparently offended, swore at Saber in an undetectable foreign language at which time Saber shut up. Then the man stalked off, muttering, "country of lunatics!" We agree.

RACONTEUR Don Stevens claims he has now become a "five wheelbarrow contractor."

When the Bear Flag flew upside down last week in front of Mill Valley City Hall we asked Fireman Al Marovich if this was significant. No, "just a mistake," he said, but one doesn't take down the American Flag until sunset so the Bear stayed up all day that way.

We met Archie McKenzie the other day in hat and sneakers sitting on the front seat of the gravity car in Lytton Square under one of those funny trees which drops red berries on you. He was reading a pocket book, "The Gentleman," and, manlike, was waiting for his wife.

"I used to ride these things in the 20s," he said. Asked if he always sat in front then, he answered, "No, you had to get in wherever you could."

WE HAPPENED to be going by the Cozy Cafe in Sausalito and dropped in to see Ruby, nine seats, everything cozy Cullinan. She said she had been saving a dog story for us. It seems that people waiting outside at the Greyhound bus stop were barked at by a dog that sat staunchly on the library steps. "He wouldn't let anybody stand out there. Finally the police came."

It turned out the dog had come to the library the night before with some youngsters and, not seeing them leave, remained there all night. "He was guarding the bus stop," said Ruby. A Beagle-mix type, he was.

The only dog we know with a listing in the Marin County telephone book is Barnaby Gallas.

We met him out for a walk last week with masters Mr. and Mrs. John Gallas. Barnaby gets mail and telephone calls, the latter mainly from people asking if he wants to buy insurance. Barnaby is 12 and is known also because he catches flies.

Asked if the listing isn't expensive for a dog, Gallas replied, "About 35 cents. And we have had more than that come from kicks out of it."

THERE IS a fairly new sign in Vina del Mar park which reads: "This park is for the public to enjoy. No dogs allowed. Use litter can. For parents safety. Do not climb trees or into flower beds. Ord. 627-629, City of Sausalito."

In the Vina del Mar guest book in Sausalito City Hall we found one entry by Pedro Ruiz: "Encantado de econtiamo aqui."

Another from Laura Carrago, also Chilean visitor: "Un rincon maravilloso." Then by Marcos V. Lopez: "Viva the Jays, Sausalito and Vina del Mar." (This refers to People to Peoplers, the Loren Jays.) Viva, we say. Viva.

IT IS ONLY FAIR to report we have received a letter from Ambrose J. Hollingworth of Box 786, Mount Shasta Town, Calif. He advises "the beat is changing and some are more intensely reacting to it than others.

"Some are even consciously aware of it as it applies to their part in the mechanism. And, of course, some are aware of the entire clock and as such . . . "

Hollingworth claims "since life is movement and movement is rhythmic change, the beat is the measurement of life . . . every generation has its rebellious element, but such routine is not what we're dealing with here. Neither are we dealing with a generation in its usual meaning. These extraordinary people were born from April 1927 through July 1956. The beat generation. Once every 25,824 years."

It's good to get letters.

Market Closes Higher After Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today after erasing an early loss. Trading was heavy.

KLM Airline jumped nearly 8 points following a report of sharply higher earnings.

SCM Corp. looked like the most-active stock for the third straight session and advanced more than 2.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.2 million shares compared with 10 million yesterday.

Here was the picture toward the close:

The rise was irregular. Favored issues ran up 1 to 4 points. Losses of fractions to a point or so peppered the list.

SCM Corp. looked like the most active stock for the third straight day, rising well over 2. KLM Airlines, announcing sharply higher earnings, spurted 4. Fairchild Camera and Baltimore & Ohio alro rose about 4.

Also active, Magnavox rose nearly 2 and Allis Chalmers more than a point.

Douglas Aircraft ran up more than 3. Ahead a point or better were General Dynamics, Zenith, Raytheon, Comsat, Texas Gulf Sulphur and Pan American World Airways.

Stocks were generally lower in the morning on greatly reduced volume compared with the previous session. Recovery got under way gradually. Even while the average was down in early afternoon there were more gainers than losers in the over-all list.

IBM remained off 4 points. American Can was down a point and Sears, Roebuck nearly a point.

VOLKSWAGEN STYLING REMAINS UNCHANGED

Almost the only way to pick out Volkswagen's 1966 sedan is to get behind the wheel and drive it. Most improvements are inside. This year's model has a new 50-horsepower engine, new front axle assembly and added safety and convenience features. Wheels are slotted for improved brake ventilation and new hubcaps are flatter. Nearly one out of five Volkswagens sold in the U.S. has sliding sunroof as shown here. Now on sale at Leon C. Felton Co., San Rafael and Mill Valley Volkswagen in Strawberry.

New Showrooms In Corte Madera For J And B Ford

J and B Ford Sales, now in Mill Valley, will occupy new showrooms on Paradise Drive in Corte Madera on Monday.

The firm will be located on 3.5 acres south of Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet, where a 22,000-square foot building has been built by Spiliotis and Co. Herman Boldetti, co-owner of J and B with Ernie Joe, said showrooms will be large enough to display six to eight cars, with additional storage space in other parts of the building.

Boldetti said the structure will also house 25 service stalls, a new machine for front and rear wheel alignment and an area for used cars. He said every two stalls will have water, air and oil facilities and a sound system has been installed to contact mechanics throughout the premises.

The building was designed by Harold S. Lezzini, San Rafael.

J and B will give up its locations at 250 East Blithedale Avenue and 600 Miller Avenue in Mill Valley.

Oakland To Build Own Port Tract

OAKLAND — Following five months of negotiations with Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, Boston industrial development firm, the Oakland Board of Port Commissioners has decided to retain ownership of the 700 acre port industrial park and develop it under their auspices using port funds.

Port commissioners approved an appropriation of $330,000 to construct an expanded network of access roads and utilities in the park that would open 38.5 uncommitted acres for immediate sale or lease as well as serving 4.5 recently occupied.

BIG BUSTER BASHES FOE

Confident Giants Open Pennant Drive Tonight

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Manager Herman Franks was still spouting optimism today despite two straight losses in Cincinnati which cut the Giants' first-place margin in half to two games over the Los Angeles Dodgers with 10 games left to play.

"We're still ahead, aren't we?" Franks countered when asked whether he felt his Giants could hold off the 11th hour challenge of the Dodgers.

"I would like nothing better than to play them in a two-game series. That should show you how worried I am.

"So we've lost two straight. So what? I've been around long enough to know that baseball is an ups-and-downs game.

"Look, if someone had come to me at the start of this season and asked me would I be willing to accept a two-game lead with 10 left to play, what do you think I'd have told him? 'You're darn right,' I'd have said. 'You've got yourself a deal.' "

Franks is convinced his club will be able to stave off both the Dodgers and the Reds, who trail the Giants by 3½ games, but he shies away from any bold predictions.

"The spirit on this ball club is great," he said. "They believe they can win, and so do I. But I don't intend to worry myself into a frazzle when things don't always go right.

"Only the man upstairs knows who'll be on top a week from Sunday. You know how far into the future I worry? As far as tonight's game. That's all. One game at a time, one team at a time.

"You think I'm worried about Saturday? I couldn't care less. My concern is how I'm going to do against Milwaukee tonight. When that's over I'll start worrying about Saturday's game with the Braves. When I'm done with the Braves, I'll worry about the next team, St. Louis, but only the first game."

Franks nominated Ron Herbel, a right-hander with an 11-7 record, to pitch the opener against the Braves. In his last start, Herbel teamed up with Frank Linzy to shut out the Braves in Milwaukee. Tony Cloninger, the Braves' 20-game winner, is slated to oppose Herbel.

Franks said he hasn't decided on Saturday's pitcher, but was certain he'd use his ace, Juan Marichal, Sunday against the Braves, the following Thursday against the Reds and again on Sunday, the season's finale, also against the Reds, "if we need that game."

Thursday's day of rest was welcomed by Willie Mays, who showed signs of fatigue in the series with the Reds. Willie had only one hit — a single — in the three games.

"I feel fine," said Mays, "I was a little tired but I'm okay now."

The Giants and Dodgers both will be home for their remaining 10 games. The Giants play three with Milwaukee, three with St. Louis and close out with four with Cincinnati. The Dodgers, in the meantime, play three with St. Louis, three with Cincinnati and the final four with Milwaukee.

"We face the same clubs so neither one has an edge," said Franks. "If we don't win we don't deserve it."

Tomorrow's Giants - Braves game will start at 2:15 p.m., later than usual, because of national television committments. Sunday's game will start at 1 p.m.

Does Your Transistor Radio Sound Like This Sometimes

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen of transistorland—welcome to tonight's "That's Light, Ron Show," brought to you by Herman's Franks, the manager the butcher brings home; and Gleen Stamps, you can lick US but you can't beat our Giants; and Shiv 'n' Run Petrol, the striped gas that helps busy cars cut out in a hurry.

Ron: "Tell me, Mashi, it IS true that you are Japanese and that your parents are Japanese too and isn't it also correct to say that you are the first right-handed Japanese pitcher to strike out a left-handed Dominican pinch-hitter in a National League night game. Isn't that right, Mashi?"

Mashi: "That's light, Ron. Except I'm a refty. The best refty leereef pitcher in the National League."

Ron: "That's right, lefty. Well, now, Mashi, tell me it is also true that when you struck out that Dominican Dandy the other night you threw him a slider that caught the lower outside corner of the plate and although he checked his swing the umpire called it strike three. Isn't that right, Mashi?"

Mashi: "That's light, Ron. I think."

Ron: "Well, Mashi, how about the National League pennant race?"

Ron: "No, Mashi, I mean that if the Giants split their remaining 10 games and the Dodgers win seven of their games they will tie for the pennant, but where will that leave the Redlegs?"

Mashi: "That's light, Ron. The Ledregs will be reft in Ohio and we will pray Ros Angeres in a pray-off for the frag."

Ron: "Uh . . er . . well, Mashi, that's not exactly what I meant, so let's change the subject. Tell me, do you think the Giants can beat St. Louis next week?"

Mashi: "That's light, Ron. I rike to pray against the Cardinals. Ho-ha. That's honorable joke, Ronnie-babe. Get it? Pray against the Cardinals? I am the only National Reague prayer who can make that joke. Ho-ha."

Ron: "Uh . . yes, Mashi, velly funny. Now let's get serious for a moment. It is true that if the Giants win the pennant they will play Minnesota in the World Series, isn't that right, Mashi?"

Mashi: "No, you Ronnie. He Ree."

Ron: "Well, Mashi, I think we'd better end this interview right now. Thank's a lot. Now, do me one favor. Repeat after me: 'That's light, Ron.' Okay, say it now."

Mashi: "That's right, Lon."

Stage Set For Frantic Finish In N. L.

The wild National League scramblers had a chance to catch their breath yesterday, an off day for all three baseball pennant contenders, before they head into the final 10 days of frantic action.

San Francisco, which has seen its once healthy lead melt to two games during a visit to Cincinnati, headed home to wind up the season at Candlestick Park against Milwaukee, St. Louis and Cincinnati in that order.

Los Angeles, alive again and charging toward the wire, also finishes up at home in Dodger Stadium against the same clubs but in a different order. The Dogers meet St. Louis, Cincinnati and then Milwaukee.

Cincinnati, 3½ games back with only nine to play compared to 10 each for the Giants and Dodgers, has a good chance to close the gap because the Reds meet both West Coast teams.

The Reds do not play until Saturday night in Houston when Jim Maloney is scheduled to make the first of three important starting appearances in the stretch run. Maloney, seeking his 20th win, also is due to pitch at Los Angeles Tuesday, Sept. 28, and again at San Francisco on Sunday, Oct. 3, the final day of the season.

Walter Alston has his big three lined up to face St. Louis tonight and Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

It will be Claude Osteen for the Dodgers against fireballer Bob Gibson in the opener, 21-game winner Don Drysdale against rookie Nelson Briles on Saturday and 23-game winner Sandy Koufax against Ray Sadecki Sunday.

Prtsumably, Alston will follow the same rotation down to the wire in the three games with Cincinnati and the four with the Braves.

Manager Herman Franks of San Francisco held out Juan Marichal to give him extra rest and saw him knocked out Wednesday night. He will use Ron Herbel against 22-game winner Tony Cloninger in the Friday night game with Milwaukee at Candlestick. Undoubtedly, Marichal will get plenty of work in the final week.

It probably will come right down to the wire with everything hanging on the Cincinntai-San Francisco four game set Sept. 30-Oct. 3 at Candlestick while the Dodgers are playing Milwaukee and watching the scoreboard.

'Fresno Flash' In Seattle Golf Tie

SEATTLE (AP)—Gary Bauer may be the tiniest man on the professional golf tour but the Fresno flash loomed as big as anybody today and bigger than most of the better known pros starting the second round of the $45,000 Greater Seattle Open.

Bauer carved a 68 out of the Inglewood Country Club's timbered and jumbled acres yesterday to share the first-day lead with Bob McCallister of Corona, Calif., and Charles Coody of Fort Worth, Tex.

These are a couple of 6-footers who mash the ball a mile. Bauer 5-6 tall and 118 heavy says he just swings as hard as he can and hopes.

Each of the leaders carded one bogie and five birdies to chop four strokes off the 6,707-yard layout's par-72. Coody was 2 under on each nine, McCallister fired a pair of 34s and Bauer matched par 35 on his outgoing nine and came back with a burst of birdies.

Bauer not only is the smallest pro present, but the youngest at 24 and one of the wittiest. He began his round, he said, by overshooting the first green, chipping a short and sinking a 15-foot putt for "a routine par."

His bogie came when he three-putted the 15th green. Asked how far he was from the pin for putt No. 1, Bauer said, "It was a three-day hike."

Jack Nicklaus, 1962 Seattle Open victor and one of three former champions in the field, was linked with six other players at 69—among them Al Geiberger, winner of the American Golf Classic at Akron this year.

Dave Marr, winner here in 1961 and this year's PGA champion, had to muster four birdies at the end of his round to card a 73. Billy Casper, defending champion and third ranking money winner, had trouble on the greens and was seven strokes behind the leaders with a 75.

Host Boat Bumped In Tahoe Hydro Regatta

Other boats still had a chance to break into the field of six which will run for $30,050 in the title race Saturday. Hydroplanes with slower qualifying speeds will have to be content with less prize money in secondary races.

This bumped the host boat, Tahoe Miss, into seventh place—just out of the championship field—with a speed of 107.543 miles an hour, only a fraction slower than Miss Smirnoff in sixth with 107.575.

Chuck Thompson was expected to put Tahoe Miss into a new qualifying run today in an attempt to get back into the championship berth. Tahoe Miss has won the past two unlimited hydroplane races.

Thompson tried after the sun dipped behind the nearby Sierra peaks late yesterday, but had to stop after one lap because of some mechanical problem.

Miss Madison, owned by the community of Madison, Ind., set an initial qualifying time of 105.455 miles an hour earlier in the week. Yesterday morning, Byers could boost that to only 105.931 miles an hour, still not enough to get a starting lane in the championship race.

Still leading the qualifiers was Miss U.S. 5 with 119.986 m.p.h. Then came Miss Bardahl with 116.114 m.p.h. Notre Dame, 115.574 m.p.h.; Miss Exide, 114.547 m.p.h.; Miss Madison and Miss Smirnoff.

Marin Swimmers Co-Favored In Redwood Meet

Redwood Empire Swimming League championships will be held tomorrow and Sunday in the College of Marin pool, action starting at 9 a.m. both days.

Favored are the swimmers from the San Rafael Swim Club and Marin Pirates club, co-champs along with the Santa Rosa Neptunes in the regular dual meet season. Santa Rosa will not be competing in this weekend's meet.

PRETTY SOON IT'LL FLY

Driver Bob Tatroe, 28, of Grand Rapids, Mich., points to air speed indicator and tells car owner Walt Arfons that it read 485 miles per hour during yesterday's test run of Arfons' rocket-powered car on the Bonneville Salt Flats of Western Utah. The average speed was 247.59 miles per hour over a mile from a standing start, meaning it was close to 500 mph at the end. Arfons will attempt to break the world record of 536 mph next month. Osteen Key Man In Dodger Spurt

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dodger pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale merit all the headlines they get.

But the third member of the Big Three—there doesn't appear to be a Big Four on the Los Angeles staff this year—is a valuable man named Claude Osteen.

The 5-11, 173-pound southpaw opens the first of the vital, final 10-game home stand tonight against the St. Louis Cardinals and their big righthander, Bob Gibson.

Osteen shut out the Cardinals and Gibson, 5-0, when they last pitched against each other in St. Louis, and came through after only two days rest.

The victory was No. 15 and for the first time this year Osteen was over the .500 mark with a record of 15-14.

At that stage Osteen was burdened with a 6-10 record, and the critics were vocal over General Manager Buzzie Bavasi's deal which sent slugger Frank Howard and assorted talents to the Senators for Osteen and third baseman John Kennedy.

Osteen has been prominent in the six straight wins Los Angeles boasts going into tonight. In the first five games of the string, Dodger pitching had allowed only one earned run for the 45 innings.

Milwaukee earned six runs Wednesday night, but seven in 56 innings isn't bad, and more important, the Dodgers on the ball game, 7-6.

Osteen is 2-1 against the Cardinals and Gibson is 1-2 against Los Angeles. Gibson is 18-11 for the season, so no team figures for a romp tonight.

Osteen doesn't overpower anyone, but he has great control and a fine sinker.

Kennedy, incidentally, has not been a disappointment. The Dodgers never did think he would hit .300, or maybe even .200, and he's not. But when defensive protection at third, his man is Kennedy.

As for the St. Louis - Dodger record, Los Angeles has prevailed 9-6 for the year. But the Cards are 4-2 in Dodger Stadium.

LaRose And Harrison Added To 49er Squad

LaRose, 6-5 and 250, is a former All America from Missour and was the first round draft choice of the Detroit Lions in 1960.

He reports immediately and fills the place in the roster vacated by Dan Colchico who suffered a ruptured Achilles tendon last Sunday and will be out for the season.

Also scheduled to report Friday is linebacker Bob Harrison, a former 49er, who rejoins the club after being released on waivers by Pittsburgh. The former Oklahoma star replaces Matt Hazeltine who suffered a knee injury necessitating surgery.

AT KENTFIELD

Redwood, DeAnza Battle Tonight

Redwood Giants will be in stiff company tonight when they take on the DeAnza Dons in a non-league grid scrap in Kentfield. Game time is 8 o'clock.

DeAnza of Richmond, one of the strong teams in the Alameda Athletic League, lost to Richmond last week, 13-12, and to lose by only one point to highly touted Richmond is a feat in itself.

"It will take 100 per cent effort to win this one," said Redwood coach Bob Troppmann. Adding to the toughness of Redwood's assignment tonight will be the loss of two key starters. Leading runner Ken Tucker hurt his ankle in Redwood's opener last week against Mount Diablo and Mark Herrero, a tackle, is on the doubtful list with hurts.

The Richmond gridders have a strong passing attack. The Giants may spring a passing attack of their own, now that Tucker is on the injured list. Doing the throwing for Redwood will be quarterback Dane Durham, and his very capable receivers are Len Pieri, Tim Akers and Jim Tupper.

Redwood stunned Mount Diablo in the opener last Friday, 6-0. Defensive specialists who will try to do the same thing against DeAnza tonight are guard Trevor Benedict, tackle Bill McNamara, end Bud Lyons, and backfield men Walt Kirkwood, Stan Tobiason and Dan Salata. Tucker will be replaced in the offensive lineup by Harvey Hand.

Novato, Petaluma In Inter-League Biggie

Novato High School's Hornets will be the second Marin Athletic League team to invade Petaluma in as many weeks when they try for win number two tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Hornets, winners 20-0 last Saturday over College Park, realize they'll have a tougher task tonight. Petaluma snapped Drake's win streak at nine games last Friday, beating the Pirates 13-12.

"We know Petaluma is a good ball club and it is well coached," said Novato coach Harry Moore. "If we are ahead at halftime, we'll have to be doubly strong in the second half." His scouting report from the game was that it was Drake the first half and all Petaluma the second half.

Novato will be matching its I formation against the multiple offense of the Petaluma Trojans. Leading Novato's running game is Dick Otis, top runner in the MCAL last year. Dick rambled for 131 yards against College Park. Also showing signs of being a big runner for Novato is halfback Frank Perachiotti who picked up 50 yards in Novato's opening win.

AT SAN RAFAEL

Terra Linda '11' Takes On Ukiah

With new starters in the running back positions, the Terra Linda Trojans will host the Ukiah Wildcats tonight on the San Rafael High School field, 8 o'clock.

Halfback John Clifford and fullback Jack Baken are both nursing back injuries and will be replaced in the offensive lineup by Jim Paydo and Jim Sherbert, respectively. With a few new wrinkles in his offense, coach Brad Squires will use wingback John Forry in the halfback spot a few times to get more mileage out of the veteran. A fine receiver who played end last season, Forry also has good running ability.

"We have made no defensive changes," said Squires, who watched his defensive team hold Clayton Valley to zero points in the opener won by the Trojans, 19-0.

Ukiah will be coming to San Rafael off of a 15-6 triumph over Healdsburg in the Wildcats' opener last week. Although Ukiah has a big line with power in the backfield, the Wildcats do a lot of passing.

Quarterbacking the Trojans will be little Sid Norman (140 pounds) who did a very good job in the Clayton Valley game. He has a lot of poise and may turn out to be a "big" man in Terra Linda's chase for the MCAL championship.

Vikings, Dallas, Rams, Eagles Also Favored

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

It's only the second week of the season, but the Cleveland Browns are in good position to deal a severe blow to their chief rivals for the eastern division in the National Football League.

Cleveland, the defending NFL champion, plays host to the St. Louis Cardinals on Sunday and a Brown victory would give them a fast two-game lead over St. Louis.

The Cardinals, who were expected to cause Cleveland the most trouble this season, were upset by Philadelphia last week while the Browns were downing Washington. Since each team plays only a 14-game schedule, it is difficult to make up too much lost ground in the league race.

The western division also boasts a "crucial" contest between the Baltimore Colts and the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee. The Packers, who finished in a second-place tie behind Baltimore last year are favored by four points on the strength of the home field advantage.

In other games Sunday, Detroit is at Minnesota, Washington at Dallas, Chicago at Los Angeles, New York at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at San Francisco. The contest at Los Angeles originally was scheduled for Saturday night but was moved back one day following the August riots.

Detroit, which showed a surprisingly strong defense in shutting out Los Angeles last week, nevertheless remains a seven-point underdog to the Vikings, who were beaten by Baltimore. Lion coach Harry Gilmer will be making his first appearance against former boss Norm Van Brocklin after working as the Vikings' defensive coach the last four years.

Dallas stormed off to a 31-2 victory over the Giants last week and is picked by three points over the Redskins. Washington will be without fullback Rick Casares, who suffered a fractured rib against the Browns, and probably will get only limited service from halfback Charlie Taylor, who suffered a slight ankle sprain in the same game.

The Bears are listed as four-point underdogs at Los Angeles although they haven't lost a regular season contest to the Rams since 1959. Chicago split its quarterback duties between Rudy Bukich and Bill Wade last week while Los Angeles went with Bill Munson.

Philadelphia, behind the strong passing of Norm Snead, shocked St. Louis last week and is a strong 11-point choice over the Giants while San Francisco rates by 13 points over the Steelers.

A. A. Stagg Left $136,888 Estate

STOCKTON (AP) — The late famed football coach Amos Alonzo Stagg left an estate valued at about $126,000 to two sons ued at $136,888, an appraisement and inventory filed in San Joaquin County Superior Court revealed yesterday.

The estate, which is mostly in stocks and bank accounts, has not yet come to probate. One of Stagg's sons, Paul, who is athletic director at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, is administrator for the estate as well as for that of Mrs. Stagg who died in 1964.

Mrs. Stagg left an estate val- Paul, and Amos Alonzo Jr., of Chicago; and a daughter, Ruth Stagg Lauren, also of Chicago. Mrs. Stagg's estate is in probate.

Drake Hosts Analy Tomorrow Afternoon

Drake, defending champ of the Marin Athletic League football wars, will try to bounce back from its opening game loss when the Pirates go against Analy of Sebastopol tomorrow in Kentfield. Kickoff will be at 2 p.m.

Tomorrow Drake will be going without its first string quarterback and flanker. Signal caller Bill Ingram will be out of action for at least two weeks with a knee infection and flanker Scott Sibbald is out with an ankle injury. Ingram will be replaced in the starting lineup by senior Mike Russell, and Tom McNaboe will open at flanker.

"I have no worries with Russell in there," said Franceschini. "I have a lot of confidence in him. He'll do a good job."

Big tackle Richard Cohen is off the injury list and will be back in his starting right tackle spot tomorrow for Drake, a team that uses the wide spread formation.

Dean Lazzarini, running from the fullback position for the Pirates, is always a threat to break away for the long gainers. Since he was fairly well contained by Petaluma, he'll be out to show his stuff tomorrow to the home fans from San Anselmo.

Analy will be running from the straight-T formation, but the Tigers occasionally send out a wingback or split an end.

San Rafael Bulldogs Vs. Montgomery Tomorrow

San Rafael High School footballers play their first road game of the season tomorrow night when the Bulldogs tangle with Montgomery High School Vikings at Bailey Field in Santa Rosa, 8 o'clock.

"It will be a real challenge for us," said San Rafael coach Bob Muster, noting that Montgomery should be the powerhouse of the North Bay League. Muster watched Montgomery's losing opener with powerful Bellarmine of San Jose and said the final score (22-0) was not indicative of the talents of the Santa Rosa gridders. "The game was closer than the score shows," said Muster.

Muster said Montgomery is big and fast and singled out halfback Mel Gray as a real speedster. Track fans will remember this junior as a sprinter and broad jumper from last year.

The Bulldogs came out of their opening game victory (8-0 over McClymonds) without any serious injuries. Tackle John Balzan and halfback Perry Valhos suffered minor bruises during the past week's drills, but both should be all right by gametime.

Shawn Easley, knocked out of the Bulldogs' starting lineup last week because of injuries, will be back in his right half spot tomorrow. San Rafael's junior varsity team will play the Montgomery J.V. team tomorrow at 4 p.m. on the Montgomery High School field.

Probable starting offensive lineup for San Rafael:

Marin Catholic '11' Invades Oakland

Wildcats coach Chuck Vaughan has made some changes in his offensive team "to put more strength in the line." He's switched John Bruemmer from end to guard; Pat Carney to tight end, and John Komo from tight end to tackle.

The Wildcats may be without some of their stars tomorrow, since tackle Gary Wittenmeier and fullback George King have been out of school a few days with the flu. Vaughan doesn't know for sure whether those two boys will be ready by gametime.

Wingback John Grady is the only repeater from last week in the starting backfield for Marin. Mike Giacomini has replaced Bob Nelson at quarterback, Tom Murray has replaced Kurt Guehring at half, and Dan Snead has taken over at fullback for King.

Oakland Tech lost its opening game of the season last week to St. Mary's of Berkeley, 9-6, while the Wildcats of Marin topped Albany 12-6.

Strong Foreign Contingent In Berkeley Tennis

BERKELEY (AP) — Cliff Drysdale, runnerup in the United States championships at Forest Hills this year, heads the foreign contingent facing most of America's best in next week's Pacific Coast International tennis tournament at Berkeley.

Rafael Osuna of Mexico also is entered plus seven of the top 10 ranked United States players.

Drysdale is the champion of South Africa and also won the German crown this year and ranks with Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., as favorite in this PCI event.

Ralston is ranked No. 1 in the United States. The Berkeley tournament also has entries from Arthur Ashe, No. 3, Frank Froehling, No. 4, Eugene Scott, No. 5, Allen Fox, No. 8, Clark Graebner, No. 9, and Marty Riessen, No. 10.

CONNOLLY

LOS ANGELES—Keeping a death watch on the L. A. Dodgers and an anxious ear on what's happening to the S.F. Giants at Candlestick Park has its good and bad moments. If you're listening to Leo Durocher sputter and blabber nightly over the radio air waves, it's all nice. But if you pick up either of the newspaper rags in town and read nasty things about the Giants, you get pretty well fed up. Durocher is a real Giant booster, even a rooter.

So it is refreshing to talk with Buzzy Bavasi, general manager of the Dodgers. He's an old pro, eminently fair in his criticisms, and he calls a spade a spade. To him the Dodgers can do no harm, naturally.

Today in a chin fest he confided his own opinions on the outcome of the 1965 World Series.

'Whatever National League club wins, it will take four straight from the American League victor," Buzzy declares. "We're a betting league, have finer pitching and whatever team comes down first will be better fitted to enter the World Series in high gear. The Twins have been idling and fooling around so long, it's not going to be easy for them to get back into their mid-season form."

BAVASI SAYS the pressure ridden aggregations of the Giants and Dodgers have to be "ripe" for the Series.

In response to our inquiry over Manager Walter Alston, Bavasi says Walter O'Malley, owner, already has signed Alston for 1966.

"There's no managerial vacancy in the Dodger household," says Buzzy. "We're already inked Alston and he's now planning ahead. We're mighty well pleased with the showing he has made and we'll be doubly happy if we can nose out the Giants in the most hectic pennant scramble in history.

TALKING ABOUT Durocher's radio program, Bavasi merely says, "what he is doing and saying over the radio is why he isn't managing a big league team."

Durocher has already selected Herman Franks for the Manager of the Year award; Willie Mays for the most valuable player and Juan Marichal, if the Giants win the pennant, as the Cy Young Award for pitching.

SANDY KOUFAX, in my opinion, says Durocher, "is the best pitcher in baseball. Marichal is the best righthander and regardless of my listening audience, I have to pick Joe Torre as the best catcher in the National League. Anyone who says Roberto Clemente is entitled to the player of the year award can't count. How many home runs has he made?"

A BIT of snickering prevails here over the suspension for the balance of the season of Pedro Gonzalez in his bat swinging orgy with pitcher Larry Sherry.

Felipe Alou, former Giant now with Milwaukee was asked why so many of his Dominican athletes clubbed ball players with bats.

'We are brought up to afraid of Americans," says Felipe to Frank Finch, the LA Times writer. "In Latin America we read the funny papers and learn that Superman conquers everybody. Superman is an American and we're afraid of him, so we grab any weapon we can to defend ourselves."

DOWN ON THE FARM

Stanford Vs. Navy

By JACK STEVENSON

STANFORD (AP) — Navy's Middies, with an inexperienced quarterback at the helm, invade Stanford tomorrow and they can only guess what a fellow named Dave Lewis will come up with.

Lewis, the Indians' real Indian quarterback, can run, pass and punt with the best of them and what might start as a run might end as a pass and vice versa.

Navy Coach Bill Elias gives the starting nod at quarterback to sophomore Jack Cartwright, who turned in the best job of three signal callers tried last Saturday as Navy fell to Syracuse 14-6.

He's young and will improve" said assistant coach Doug Scovil of the 19-year-old Cartwright. "You have to expect him to make some mistakes, but he uses his head and uses his blockers."

In addition to Lewis, the Indians have halfbacks Ray Handley, a powerful runner who was second leading rusher in the Pacific Athletic Conference last year, and fleet Bob Blunt.

Along the offensive and defensive lines, Stanford holds a slight weight advantage. The Indians average 216 on offense and 217 on defense to 213 and 212 for Navy.

This season Stanford meets all three services academies.On Oct. 2 they play at the Air Force and on Oct. 23 play host to Army.

Western Gridders Go East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Theme for West Coast football this week appears to be "Go East Young Men," with a couple of notable exceptions.

Oregon State plays host to a surprised Iowa club at Portland while Stanford tries to sink the Navy at Palo Alto and might well have the gunners to do it.

Going eastward, Southern California plays at Wisconsin, Washington State at Minnesota, California at Michigan, University of the Pacific at Iowa State and in night games, Oregon is at Utah and Washington at Baylor.

San Jose State's Spartans play at Idaho and UCLA's Bruins are idle.

Five Pacific Athletic Conference teams opened their seasons with victories a week ago and a sixth, USC, gained a 20-20 tie with Minnesota.

This time Washington State tries to stop the running and passing of the Gophers' John Hankinson. WSU, with Tom Roth leading the attack, surprised Iowa 7-0. So this time the battle comes up between Hankinson and Roth.

Oregon State gave Coach Dee Andros a successful debut with a 12-10 victory over Illinois and now tries to duplicate the WSU effort and stop Iowa and its great passer Gary Snook.

Wisconsin will see a lot of Mike Garrett and the Badger hopes rest on how well it can contain the speedy Southern California halfback. Coach John McKay still searches for the quarterback to run his Trojan offense.

Washington edged Idaho 14-9 last week while Baylor was dumping Auburn 14-8 indicating the Huskies will have a rugged job ahead in Texas.

Tom Trovato made a big bid to take over the quarterback shoes vacated by Bob Berry at Oregon after last season as the Webfoots downed Pittsburgh 17-15.

Federal Requirement Snags Bolinas Plan

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners were caught in a squeeze last night between citizen demands for harbor development and possible rejection of the project by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Commission President Gene McDaniel said the commission has "been under the gun to get something going" but Army engineers are now inclined to say the harbor is not economically feasible.

There was applause from an audience of about 30 persons when Elting C. Hubbard of Stinson Beach said it was time the commission "took the bit in its teeth and proceeded."

McDaniel replied, "Perhaps we have been slow, but when you depend on federal money, it takes a long time to get it."

Before the district can get funds, either state or federal, it must have a plan, he said. "We are determined to get this planning going."

Commissioners probably will have a special meeting before their next regularly scheduled meeting to hire a planning consultant, he announced.

The Army Corps of Engineers says a breakwater is necessary in addition to the two jetties planned by the district, and this would bring the cost to $6 million, McDaniel said. That cost would put the harbor "out of feasibility" under the Army engineers cost-ratio formula, he said.

"We now have to work toward proving that the breakwater is not necessary," McDaniel said. The district has six months to produce a feasible plan acceptable to the corps of engineers.

George Brayton of Oceanographic Services Inc., Santa Barbara, seeking the planning contract, outlined the type of study his firm provides. But McDaniel said the commission has a "moral obligation" to have Prof. J. W. Johnson of University of California undertake the study.

"We have no firm, written contract, but we have made two contacts with him through John A. Blume" (district engineer) McDaniel said.

Even without a breakwater the harbor development would cost $5.5 million, McDaniel said. If the district cannot get federal funds, it will try to get funds from the State Small Craft Harbor Division, he said. "We will stand high on the priority list for a refuge harbor."

The proposed master plan will cover the entire harbor area including recreation facilities, channel and boating facilities. First step in development is boating because "boats pay their way," McDaniel said.

The district has a lease with the Finley family to develop a marina along the northeast shore of the Bolinas Lagoon. "We also feel there is room probably for two marina sites," McDaniel reported.

The commission postponed action on a request of the Bolinas Yacht Club to lease a small parcel of land for a private harbor, until it could check further on the legality of such a move.

Bolinas Sand Bar Channel Discussed

Tugboats may be used, rather than dredges, to cut a path through the sand bar at the entrance to the Bolinas Lagoon, opening it to boating use next spring.

Peter M. Auer, president of the Bolinas Rod and Boat Club, proposed the tugboat method to the Bolinas Harbor District Commission last night.

About 15 members of the club attended the session to push for immediate use of the harbor, rather than waiting for studies and long-term development.

Auer described the tugboat proposal as "an interim solution so that next year we can use this harbor. It will attract an unbelievable number of boats."

The cost of a tugboat and crew would be $125 a day, Auer said. The tugboat would "cut a swath" through the sand bar with its engine "blowing the sand out," he said.

Commission chairman Gene McDaniel said the idea is worth considering, and the cost much less than a former proposal for dredging out the sand bar.

Kerner Area Rezoning Hearing Due

Second public hearing on the Kerner-Bellam Realty Co. request to rezone land on the east side of Kerner Boulevard from commercial and light industrial use to apartments will be held by the San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday.

Residents in the area have asked that the developer be required to build only one dwelling unit for each 3,000 square feet of lot, rather than for each 1,500 as proposed.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the San Rafael City Hall.

The commission will also review a subdivision of 11 residential lots proposed by Paul Sade at Bayo Vista Way and the extension of Tierra Vista Way, and a use permit for an office asked by William Nelson for Lincoln Avenue opposite the Linden Lane overpass.

George School Classes Slated

One class will start Oct. 5 and the other on Oct. 6. Both will be from 8 to 10 p.m. for 10 consecutive weeks. There is no tuition fee, according to Joseph E. Donohoe, public relations chairman.

The Marin section also will offer an advanced course entitled "The Science of Political Economy" at the Marinwood Community Center starting early next month, Donohoe reported.

Betrothal Of Shelley Merner Is Announced In Dusseldorf

In the German style was the party held in Dusseldorf, Germany in last August which announced the engagement of Shelley Engstrom Merner of Tiburon to Joachim Essers of the German city.

First the formal engagement was made known at an afternoon reception at the home of Joachim's mother, Mrs. Luise Margret Essers. A dinner party for relatives and close friends was then given by Mrs. Gretel Strohmeier, the prospective bridegroom's aunt. After dinner the engagement party, or "verlobung" moved to the home of Miss Barbara Schroeder for merriment and dancing. Toasts and speeches were given, many to honor the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Carl Merner of Tiburon, who were unable to be present for the festivities.

Formal engagement cards, engraved in English and German, were distributed to friends on both sides of the Atlantic.

Shelley is the sister of Evan Engstrom of Fort Bliss, Texas, and the step-sister of Scott Merner, attending the University of Oregon, Brett Merner of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Kent Elsworth of the Canary Islands, Spain, and Mrs. Jerrol Flood of San Rafael.

She is now a junior at the University of California having returned from Europe just in time for the fall semester. She studied at the University of California at Santa Barbara in her freshman year. Her fiance is a graduate of Rethel Gymnasium in Dusseldorf attended the University of Cologne, and studied last year at the Unievrsity of California. He is now completing his education in Cologne.

Marriage plans will be deferred until Joachim finishes his thesis and final examinations at the University of Cologne in the summer of 1967. The wedding will take place in the United States.

'NEED FOR LAWS'

By BARBARA HOSMER

The middle income consumer may be the next large voting bloc to command national attention, believes Mrs. Helen Nelson, Consumer Counsel for the State of California.

In a report prepared for delivery at the Agricultural Relations Council in Denver, Mrs. Nelson said that the next critical area may be the problems of the dominant self-sustaining middle class, which has the bewildering job of converting a series of paychecks into a way of living in a so-called "affluent society."

SHE SAID THAT most families in this country are trying to pay for food, clothing, house, cars, all kinds of insurance, medical care, utility bills and all the other goods and service that "can make the American dream come true with less than $500 a month take-home pay."

The challenge is in making all the transactions and the decisions, which are becoming more complex each year, she said.

Mrs. Nelson outlined what she termed profound changes that have occurred in the country in recent decades:

Fewer live on farms—only one in 17 persons who work is engaged in farming. Today two out of three live in urban centers and fewer mothers teach their daughters how to can fruits, make pickles or pluck a chicken.

"NOW TO BE a good housewife you have to be able to read a label, borrow money, buy insurance, guard against the fine print in a credit contract and interpret the warranty on a washing machine, among other responsibilities," Mrs. Nelson said.

There are more old people and more young people than ever before who are primarily consumers, not producers, she pointed out. Young people stay in school longer, remaining consumers looking to father to pay the bills, which is another factor, she said.

Mrs. Nelson said that as family income has risen the share for food and clothing has declined, from 42 per cent in 1950, to under 35 per cent in 1961. Thus a greater percentage of a family's income today goes for what is called "discretionary spending," which includes insurance and automobiles, necessities to most families. Between 1950 and 1960 the amount spent on car purchase and upkeep increased 21 per cent, Mrs. Nelson stated. And the share for medical care increased 27 per cent.

"REPERCUSSIONS FROM these rapid changes are just beginning to be felt by those public officials whose duties include making the rules governing the marketplace," she said.

So far the stirrings of resentment against current marketing techniques are coming mainly from the middle-income consumers, who are learning that many of the rules of the marketplace are made in government, Mrs. Nelson stated.

"The middle-income housewife is becoming aware that if the label is deceptive or not informative . . . or she's frustrated in trying to make wise choices when borrowing money or signing a credit contract . . . it's often because basic rules made by government legalize the practices that frustrate her efforts," the Consumer Counsel said.

THERE IS AN increasing awareness that basic laws need to be updated to reaffirm and spell out the consumer's right to facts essential to a rational buying decision and to guard against fraud and misrepresentation committeed in new and technical ways, she said.

STARTING her career as a stewardess for Eastern Airlines is Catherine Smartt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smartt of San Rafael. She will be based in Miami.

St. John's Club Plans Luncheon

The Episcopal Church women of St. John's Church in Ross will hold a luncheon on Oct. 5 at 12:30 p.m., in the parish house.

Mrs. J. J. France is chairman for the event with Mrs. Roy H. Balke, co-chairman, and Mesdames Julius Jacobson, William J. Doggett and Howard Hoenes on the committee.

Colorful Floors Easily Maintained

Easily maintained, long-lasting floors in a wide variety of colors now are possible using new crystalline glazed ceramic tiles, similar to those used for years as wall surfacings. The addition of crystalline to the glaze makes the tile more durable and even more able to withstand the wear and tear on residential floors, thus extending to floor surfaces the wide range of colors available in tile used on walls.

Tile To Top

One way to determine the quality of a home is to check the use of ceramic tile on bathroom walls. Does it extend all the way to the ceiling? Steam and water can cause damage to paint, wallpaper and other materials but they can't hurt ceramic tile.

Adult Classes Set By U.C. Extension

More than 70 daytime classes and seminars for adults begin this month at the University of California Extension Center in San Francisco. The daytime program reflects the full range of the University Extension curriculum and includes courses in anthropology, art, business administration, economics, dramatic art, music, dance, history, political science, the humanities, languages, literature, English, journalism, speech, mathematics, sociology, law, psychology, and real estate.

Highlights of the daytime program include a lecture series on "The Family and Five Stages of Life" — a survey of the problems and potentials of human growth from infancy through adolescence, adulthood and parenthood, to the later years.

Classes in art include instruction in painting and drawing from the figure, and tours of artists' studios and art galleries. Those with an interest in the performing arts may enroll in acting, modern dance or advanced ballet. Courses in "Creative Salesmanship" and "Investment Policies" are part of the business administration program. The language and culture series makes it possible to study a foreign language while learning about the history, art, and politics of the country.

... do it in the daily newspaper. As an advertiser you want to tell your story to a receptive audience. People have confidence in what they read in the newspaper. They feel: "I saw it in the newspaper; it must be so."

According to an actual survey, eight out of 10 people felt that newspapers are "reliable" and "dependable," and more than seven out of 10 felt them to be "believable."

This confidence in the newspaper's columns extends to the advertising messages, too. In the same study, newspaper advertising rated high in positive, and low in negative, feelings.

If you want to prod people into buying action, try advertising in the medium that's more-to-the-point. Try the daily newspaper.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bidding Consistency Can Prove Good Player's Woe

You are a difficult partner if you overbid or underbid as the fancy seizes you.

You are a helpful partner if your tendency is always in the same direction—but you may be helpful to the opponents.

Opening lead — ♣ A

Our team beat four spades at one table, but made four spades at the other table. Bidding style made all the difference.

IN A HURRY

At the first table I led the ace of clubs from the West hand. I was in a hurry to cash tricks because my four small diamonds told me that dummy's big suit would come in very quickly.

After the dummy showed up, it was a cinch that the second lead would be a low heart—and so it was.

Declarer went into an unhappy huddle and finally guessed wrong. He lost to the queen of hearts, back came a heart to the ace, and a club to dummy's king left declarer needing the rest of the tricks.

SAME DEFENSE

At the other table, Peter Leventritt was declarer from the North seat. East led a club to the ace, and West returned a low heart.

Declarer misguessed, and the defenders took their two heart tricks. The defense was therefore much the same at both tables.

When Leventritt finally made a diamond play he knew that West had started with two aces. West happened to be Jerry Levitt, a St. Louis expert well known for his aggressive bidding style. It was very unlikely that Levitt would pass as dealer if he had the king of diamonds as well as two aces.

Leventritt therefore led out the ace of diamonds instead of trying a futile finesse. The singleton king dropped, and the game was in the bag.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♡ A 8 7
◇ 5 4 3 2
♣ A 10 6 2

Answer: Bid 2 NT.

The raise shows about eight or nine points, and asks partner to pass with 16 points, bid game with 18 points and to use his judgment with 17 points.

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS ISSUED BY THE COUNTY OF MARIN UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1911

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the County of Marin will receive bids for the purchase of $14,655.54 principal amount of bonds of the County of Marin designated as "Improvement Bonds, Main Street (Tam Valley) Assessment District, Series No. 6096 County of Marin, State of California." Said bids are to be delivered not later than 10:00 o'clock A.M. on September 27, 1965, at the office of the County Clerk of the County of Marin, located in the Civic Center, San Rafael, California, at which time and place said proposals will be publicly opened, examined and declared.

The Resolution of Intention provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bearing interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, shall be issued in the manner and form provided in Part 5, Division 7, of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California (Improvement Act of 1911) to represent unpaid assessments of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) or over, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be payable to bearer, and may be redeemed as provided in the Improvement Act of 1911, and there shall be added to the redemption clause in said bonds the following words:

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATE: Bonds are to be dated the 2nd day of October, 1965, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention at a rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum.

The purpose is for the improvement of Main Street (Laurel Way) in Tamalpais Valley and the acquisition of any necessary easements and rights-of-way. The assessment district is designated as "Main Street (Tam Valley) Assessment District, County of Marin, State of California," and reference for all details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

The original amount of the assessment was $20,087.00. The sum of $5,431.56 has been paid in cash. Therefore, the amount of bonds to be issued is the sum of $14,655.44.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are subject to redemption pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911. Any property owner may redeem any bond at any time by paying the then unpaid principal, 5% of the then unmatured principal as premium, and interest to the next succeeding interest coupon date.

SECURITY: Said bonds are secured by real property against which each bond is a lien, as provided for by the Improvement Act of 1911.

LEGAL OPINION: The unqualified legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1323 Webster Street, Oakland, California, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished charge.

Bidders may bid fractional interest rate, but the fractional interest rate must be either 1/8th of 1% or 1/10th of 1%. Only one interest rate may be bid. All bids will also provide that accrued interest will be payable from the date of the bonds.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than forty-eight (48) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on October 2nd, 1965, or as soon thereafter as said bonds are ready. The successful bidder is to deposit the purchase price of said bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification of their readiness for delivery to them. The amount of the deposit of the successful bidder will be deducted from the purchase price of the bonds.

Grand Jury Soon To Spotlight Baker

By ERWIN KNOLL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Bobby Baker, the influential young Senate aide whose name erupted into headlines two years ago this month in a sensational conflict-of-interest case, is about to move back into the public spotlight.

A federal grand jury that has been scrutinizing the Baker affair for almost a year is reported to be close to completing its deliberations, and will issue a report by the end of this year. The grand jury's findings could usher in a dramatic new phase in the long-run Baker case.

Sitting behind closed doors in a courthouse a few blocks from the Capitol, where Baker once boasted of his power to sway Senators, the grand jury has heard scores of witnesses and reviewed hundreds of documents pertaining to the far-flung financial activities in which Baker engaged while serving in the $19,600-a-year post of secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Lawyers in the Justice Department's criminal division have handled the presentation of evidence, assisted by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and Internal Revenue investigators.

Deliberations of the grand jury have been cloaked in the strictest secrecy. However, the possible law violations under consideration have been listed in a Justice Department letter as:

"Knowingly and wilfully falsifying, concealing and covering up by trick, scheme and device material facts; making false, fictitious and fraudulent statements and representations, and making and using false, fictitious and fraudulent statements and entries in a matter within the jurisdiction of a department or agency of the United States, and conspiring so to do and to defraud the United States."

The grand jury findings have been impatiently awaited by a group of Republican lawmakers who have accused the Democrats of attempting to cover up the Baker affair.

When Washington lawyer Abe Fortas was named to the Supreme Court recently, questions were raised about Forta's former role as Baker's attorney. Fortas, a close adviser to President Lyndon B. Johnson, dropped Baker as a client shortly after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Another controversy arose this week when Republicans in the House and Senate attacked the president's choice of David Bress as U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia. Bress, too, had done lagal work for Baker.

In these instances and others that have arisen from time to time, Republicans have served notice that they still see some potential political mileage in the Baker episode.

The Rules Committee concluded that Baker had been "guilty of many gross improprieties," but Republicans called the investigation a Democratic "whitewash" designed to protect the party in power from still more damaging revelations.

Misfortune has dogged many of the principals in the Baker case. Miss Carole Tyler, his secretary, was killed last spring in the crash of a small plane near Baker's Carousel Motel. Fred Black, the North American Aviation representative, who shared the vending machine profits, is appealing a jail sentence for tax evasion and has lost his profitable contracts. Don Reynolds, the chief accused of Baker before the Rules Committee, has had to close his once-profitable insurance agency, and now lives in exile in the Bahamas. Walter Jenkins, the White House aide named as the intermediary in the TV advertising deal, resigned last fall after his arrest in a morals case.

Baker, too, has had his troubles apart from the continuing grand jury inquiry. Last week North American Aviation announced it would cancel its $2.5 million-a-yar vending contract with the Serv-U Corp., which remains in the linchpin in Baker's financial empire.

A month ago, Maywood Boggs, a former lobbyist and officer of the Boilermakers' Union, filed a damage suit against Baker, alleging "concealment and deception" in a "magic" stock transaction.

Sen. John J. Williams, (R-Del.), a relentless sleuth who uncovered many details about Baker's activities, has promised to press his personal investigations in the case for years, if necessary. Sen. Clifford Case, (R-N.J.), has demanded that the Justice Department file a civil suit to compel Baker "to disgorge the private profits he made by use of his official position and influence."

On all these matters Baker has maintained his silence as he practices law and looks after his investments. Before the Senate Rules Committee he invoked the constitutional protection against self-incrimination. Last year he genially advised reporters that he was writing a book, but nothing has been heard of the project since then. On the advice of his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, Baker has refrained from all comment.

He may be the only man in Washington who never talks about the Bobby Baker case.

Wreckers Lose Race To Flames

SEA GIRT, N.J. (UPI)—The block-long, 250-room Stockton Hotel, which was slated for demolition today, was destroyed last night by fire.

Police said flames broke out in the upper portion of the abandoned four-story stucco structure.

More than 150 volunteer firemen from Sea Girt, Manasquan Spring Lake, and Spring Lake Heights kept the fire from spreading, but let it run its course.

Keating Accepts Judge Nomination

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating yesterday accepted the Republican nomination for associate justice of the state Court of Appeals, New York's highest court.

Keating had been nominated last Friday by the GOP state committee to oppose Supreme Court justice Owen McGivern of Manhattan, the Democrat-Liberal candidate.

Keating was defeated in his bid for re-election to the Senate last November by Democrat Robert F. Kennedy.

Chaplin Brother Estate Probated

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Sydney Chaplin, brother of comedian Charlie Chaplin, left his entire estate to his widow, Henriette, when he died last April 15 in Nice, France.

Chaplin's will was admitted to probate yesterday in Superior Court.

The Bank of America was named administrator of the estate which exceeds $100,000 and includes $30,000 worth of real estate in San Diego County.

Court's Alcohol Plan Does Well

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The School of Alcoholism at San Francisco Municipal Court reports that in its first year of operation about 70 per cent of its graduates stayed out of further trouble with liquor.

Under the program defendants charged with drunkenness in San Francisco can receive probation, on condition they attend the four-night school, instead of a sentence.

Superior Court Judge Gerald S. Levin, in charge of the program, said about 70 per cent of the defendants were not re-arrested for drunkenness. He said that multiple arrests are a major problem in such cases and described the school's record as astonishing.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Removing Accident Hazards Helps Oldsters Live Longer

VAN DELLEN

"Fear old age, for it does not come alone."—Plato.

We assume Plato referred to the common infirmities that develop with age. Failing vision, poor hearing, sluggish reflexes, and the loss of muscular skill and coordination can be a real handicap. Fear seldom enters the picture, because oldsters tend to deny the limitations of aging.

Accidents are as important a cause of death among those over 65 as pneumonia and diabetes. Falling is most common and is responsible for more than 14,000 fatalities a year. Most senior citizens have presbyopia and need glasses to read and see objects within an arm's length. The field of vision is narrowed and the tolerance for glare decreases markedly. More light is needed when up and about, especially at night.

MANY ACCIDENTAL falls occur on stairs due to missing the last step in the belief that the bottom has been reached. Poor visibility and faulty lighting are blamed. Some victims were wearing new bifocals and could not see the steps clearly. Others get dizzy when walking up or looking down a flight of stairs. Adequate lighting and a handrail on both sides eliminate this problem.

Dr. Manuel Rodstein found that many accidents among residents of the Jewish Home and Hospital for Aged occurred in close connection with the onset of an acute disease. They fell prior to a heart attack, stroke, cold, hemorrhage, or a bout of diarrhea. Chronic illness also played a role by lessening alertness and agility, or by con tributing to weakness.

THIS WAS TRUE of those with mental deterioration, arthritis, Parkingson's disease, paralysis, and deformed feet. These individuals have trouble with curbs, doorsteps, rug edges, and slippery floors. Hardening of the brain arteries or a weak heart may reduce the flow of blood to the head, especially when getting out of bed or a chair. Dizziness follows and the oldster falls.

Many of these mishaps can be avoided by eliminating booby traps, which is better than curtailing the activity of oldsters.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

COSTLY X-RAYS

N. B. writes: Why are X-rays so expensive?

REPLY

Because equipment is expensive and a highly skilled staff is required to maintain the laboratory. The physician who interprets X-rays usually spends three to five years after his internship learning the specialty. The family physician relies heavily upon his interpretations to solve many diagnostic problems.

EXTRA DIGIT

B. G. Writes: What is done about a baby born with an extra thumb?

REPLY

Amputation usually is advised, for cosmetic reasons. But since the condition is not a matter of life and death, nothing need be done at this time.

RARE BLOOD TYPE

D. W. writes: I donated blood and was classified AB-positive. Am I a rare type?

REPLY

Yes, inasmuch as only three out of 100 persons are in the AB group. You are more plebian in the Rh classification, however, as 85 per cent of the population are Rh positive.

MIDDLE-AGED SKIN

Mrs. E. writes: Isn't it unusual for a woman in her midfifties to start sprouting warts?

REPLY

Skin blemishes of certain types, including wartlike growth, are more common after the age of 50.

White House May Lift Wage Guidelines Lid

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The White House wage guidelines, which have helped keep inflation in check for several years now, will be revised upward, probably in January.

The increase, to be announced by the President's Council of Economic Advisors, will reflect new estimates of the productivity of America's men, machines and management.

Since they were first proclaimed in the council's annual report of January, 1962, the guidelines have "authorized" wage and fringe benefit increases of 3.2 per cent a year. This figure represented the offiical estimate of the average annual increase in productivity over the five years previous to the guidelines' introduction. It has remained at that level.

In theory, the guidelines held that wage increases of this magnitude would not cause inflation because they matched the increases in output per man-hour which the economy was enjoying. Employers would not feel any upward pressure on their costs if wage increases were kept within 3.2 per cent.

The guidelines were roundly denounced by both industry and labor as government interference with collective bargaining and price-setting. Many felt that these "suggestions" would not be effective, and are convinced that events have proven them right.

Nevertheless, quite a few economists believe that the guideposts have made a real contribution to the fight against inflation. No one claims that they were perfect or that they have always been applied logically or consistently. But, overall, they have served as a yardstick the public could use to determine if wage increases are "fair". With a few exceptions, they have helped management resist extreme union demands and have kept union leadership from being extra-militant.

One result has been that unit labor costs—the cost of labor per unit of output—have held steady and even declined some over the past few years. Prices of industrial goods have remained fairly stable on the whole, though they did begin to creep up moderately during the past year.

The guidelines' greatest triumph may well have come in the recent steel settlement. By the council's computations — which most other economists in government are willing to accept—the wage package in steel will be lifting the industry's labor costs by only 3.2 per cent.

Recently, though, after years of computations, the Commerce Department revised its basic figures on the economy's growth. It discovered that our labor force is producing about $6 billion more in goods than originally projected. This means that output per man-hour—productivity—is somewhat greater than had been expected. It is estimated that this revision will lift the guidelines to about 3.4 per cent, raising them by two-tenths of one per cent.

In addition, the passage of time will provide another upward adjustment. There will be a change in the five-year base used in figuring the guidelines.

After Jan. 1, the base will no longer include 1960—a year of perhaps only a rise of 2 per cent in productivity. In the new 1961-1965 base will come the current year's 3 per cent output per man-hour. This year's extra 1 per cent when spread over the five-year base adds another two-tenths of one per cent to the guideline figure, bringing it to 3.6 per cent.

As a result of these revisions, the restless unions may find it a bit easier to win the wage packages they might have won anyway. But, keeping the new benefits within the new guidelines will tend to dampen inflationary psychology. And psychology is the biggest threat to price stability the economists currently see.

MARIN FILM FARE

War Returns To Big Screen Brando, Brynner In 'Morituri'

By LES DARD

The film fare this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Marlon Brando stars as an anti-Nazi German, a pacifist living in India. British Intelligence recruits him, with a bit of persuasion, for a mission on board a German freighter carrying badly needed rubber from Japan. Because the Germans don't want the ship and its precious cargo to fall into Allied hands, they have ordered the captain, Yul Brynner, to scuttle the boat in case of trouble.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON and 101 DRIVE-IN

Rex Harrison as a British nobleman is the first owner of the car in the title, then comes gangster George C. Scott and finally millionairess Ingrid Bergman.

LARK THEATER

The tender fable starts when a beautiful teen-age girl spends one sweet night with her lover, a young mechanic barely older than she. As is the way in fables, she is left pregnant and he goes off to Algeria in uniform.

When they cannot reach him, the girl's mother, who runs an umbrella shop (which gives the film its title), induces her to marry a young diamond merchant who will bring up the child as his own.

RAFAEL THEATER

NOVATO THEATER

"What's New, Pussycat?" bounces in here Sunday, and brings "Masquerade" along with it.

"Pussycat" is Peter O'Toole's debut in comedy. Peter Sellers is a psychoanalyst, and the cast includes Capucine, Romy Schneider, Ursula Andress and Paula Prentiss.

SEQUOIA THEATER

James Stewart stars as a Virginia farmer in the heat of the battles whose attempts at non-participation are shattered when one of his sons is mistakenly captured by Union troops.

In the end, he and his family go through all the horrors of the war they had tried to avoid.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Now on screen is the tension-packed new drama of World War II, starring Frank Sinatra and Trevor Howard, "Von Ryan's Express."

The drama centers on a pulse-pounding escape, in which war prisoners, under Von Ryan, take over a Nazi train and race for the Swiss border, bluffing and fighting all the way.

MOTOR MOVIES

In "The Fly," a scientist steps into his own infernal machine—a device that can teleport and re-form matter—and comes out a fly—only bigger. All this because a little fly happened to be in the machine too.

Too-Mature Star To Try Westerns?

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The Headliners: Robert Lansing, who was dropped from the ABC-TV series, "12 O'Clock High" because he supposedly was too mature for the early-hour teenage audience, may star in a western for the same network next season... it would be called "The Long Hunt of April Savage," shooting of the test film was scheduled to begin yesterday, and the idea for the series comes from Sam Rolfe, who turned out "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "The Man From U.N.C.L.E."

Republican Sen. George Murphy, the former actor, is interviewed on ABC-TVs' "Issues and Answers" Oct. 3... actor Gary Merrill, featured last season on CBS-TV's "The Reporter," is reported seriously considering running for a seat in the Maine state House of Representatives, as a Democrat...Lloyd Nolan plays the chief of an extremist vigalante group known as the frontiersmen on the same network's "Slattery's People" Oct. 15.

Otto Preminger discusses his latest movie, "Bunny Lake is Missing," on NBC-TV's "Today" show next Friday...next Thursday, Chester Gould, who created the Dick Tracy comic strip 34 years ago, visits "Today" to talk about the changes in his cartoon character since then...Kukla, Fran and Oillie are "Today" entertainers all next week...Gale Robbins is said to have been considered for the part that Ruth Roman got in ABC-TV's new series, "The Long, Hot Summer."

There are those who say the chief reason the attempt of dismissed CBS-TV President James Aubrey to buy Desilu studios was terminated was not really that he totally failed in his bid—but because of the press leak...the fear of the hopeful buyers, sources report, was that the publicity would drive the price of the stock up...in short, Aubrey is a serious bargainer for future power, with considerable financial backing...he recently was offered an association with a major studio...a trade paper, meanwhile, says Desilu President Lucille Ball has been having talks with movie magnate Joe Levine.

Redistricting Is Favored On Population Basis

Stuart C. Hall, former consultant to the California Constitutional Revision Commission, told a group of Marin women yesterday that he favors redistricting based more closely population.

Hall told members of the Central Marin League of Women Voters that representational districts should be formed disregarding county lines. He favors areas based on terrain, industry and other factors which would better unite the approximately 196,000 persons represented by each assembly representative.

Hall's talk was part of a league study of reapportionment which will be decided by state legislators by Dec. 9. He spoke at the Ross home of league member Mrs. Malvern Dorinson.

$1.2 Million Fine Ordered In Bay Civil Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal jury fined Ampex Corp. $1.2 million yesterday for setting up a world monopoly on television tape recorders.

After nine hours of deliberations, a U.S. District Court jury found the Redwood City firm guilty of violation the anti-trust act. It ordered Ampex to pay treble damages of $600,000 each to Mach-Tronics of Mountain View and Precision Instruments, Palo Alto.

Still to be determined is a $3 million countersuit brought by Ampex against the two electronics firms.

Mach-Tronics has asked $3,375,000 damages, accusing Ampex of conspiring to control the world market in video tape recorders.

White House Offers Beautification Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has issued a how-to-do-it brochure for individuals and organizations who want to contribute to the beautification of the nation's capital.

The 32-page booklet, entitled "For A More Beautiful Capital," was to be presented to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson today at a meeting of her beautification committee at the White House.

New York Newspapers Talks Still Fruitless

NEW YORK (AP) — A late-night session by negotiators failed to produce any break in the deadlock between the New York Times and the striking AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild.

Glenns Get Farewell

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson wished "happy landings" yesterday to retired astronaut John Glenn and his wife, who will leave Tuesday on a three-week goodwill trip to Europe.

U.S. Crop Reporting Board estimates that in June 1965 there were 15,566,000 milk cows in the U.S., 3 per cent less than a year earlier.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has written another of her stories of the colorful pioneers of early-day Marin for tomorrow's Marin Magazine. This time her subject is Edward Bosqui, famed for fine printing and one of the Ross Valley's most prominent residents of his era. The story is one of a sensitive, creative man who enjoyed gracious living while contributing his share and more to the growth of his area.

The annual Peacock Gap Concours d'Elegance will be held this Sunday. And among the many fine automobiles on display will be two belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Barry Hardy of San Rafael. It will mark the first appearance at an automobile show for the two classic cars. And in preparation for that showing there have been two years of painstaking restoration work. Your I-J weekend supplement tells that story tomorrow.
